PRESIDENT RECEIVES FALL PARDON APPEAL

New Mexico Solons Sign
Plea in Behalf of Ex-Secretary of Interior.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(AP)—A last-minute petition that Albert B. Fall be saved from the prison term imposed for accepting a bribe was received today at the White House.

Asking executive clemency for the former secretary of the interior, it bore the names of Senators Bratton and Cutting, of New Mexico, and was submitted as well on behalf of both legislative houses of that state, once served by Fall in the senate.

President Hoover's vigorous denunciation of the men responsible for the scandals of the Harding administration has been taken as indicating Fall would not be pardoned.

At the White House, it was announced the petition was being forwarded to the justice department, in accordance with the usual practice. James A. Finch, federal pardon attorney, indicated the petition would be subjected to the same routine given those of men less well known.

JOHN D. RUNG, 33, DIES AT HOSPITAL

John D. Rung, 33, chief clerk of the Georgia Power Company's sales department, died early Thursday afternoon at Georgia Baptist hospital of complications following an operation for appendicitis, performed a week previously.

Mr. Rung was the inventor of an electric brooder used widely in the poultry industry since it was placed on the market one year ago. A native of Huntingdon, Pa., Mr. Rung was graduated from Girard College, Philadelphia. He joined the Georgia Power Company seven years ago and was a draughtsman and a power salesman before his promotion, three years ago, to chief clerk.

Mr. Rung lived at 522 East Columbia avenue, College Park. He was a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Sarah E. Reich, of Washington, D. C.; a daughter, Dorothy Virginia; his mother, Mrs. Sadie Rung, a brother and a sister. Funeral arrangements will be announced upon the arrival of relatives from Pennsylvania.

STORIES "UNFAIR," WATKINS ASSERTS

Judge Garland M. Watkins, of the juvenile court of Atlanta, Thursday made a statement in which he scored "alarmist propaganda" and branded recent stories in the press concerning two children who have come under the investigation of the court in connection with liquor cases, as grossly unfair to the children.

Judge Watkins stated that he did not think that it was fair to the children to publish their names even before they had been given a hearing. He stated further that both had averred that they are innocent and that there were circumstances to support their claims. He added that the work of rescuing youngsters from bad influences and the remodeling their characters is greatly hampered by such practices. He further denied that there is any need for alarm of a widespread practice of minors having whisky. The two cases are but isolated cases, he said.

Two others, a 16-year-old boy and his sister, 12, will be tried in criminal court of Atlanta before Judge Jesse M. Wood during September. These two cases are not being handled in Judge Watkins' court. However, the two who are will be given a hearing before him possibly this week or the first of next week.

MORGAN ELECTED BY CONFECTIONERS

C. E. Morgan, of Asheville, N. C., was elected president of the Southern Wholesale Confectioners' Association Thursday in the last day of the annual convention. Invitations were extended to the association by Birmingham, Asheville and Biloxi, Miss., for the 1932 convention. The convention city will be chosen in the fall.

Other officers elected were: J. F. Eisk, Augusta, vice president; W. M. Wallace, Atlanta, treasurer; Howard Hamby, Wilmington, N. C.; L. V. Jones, Greenville, S. C.; S. M. Janney, Fredericksburg, Va.; Sam Toole, Knoxville, Tenn.; Jim Turner, Tampa, Fla.; Herman Beck, Birmingham, Ala.; B. W. Biedenharn, Monroe, La.; H. H. Biedenharn, Vicksburg, Miss.; and C. W. McDonald, Monroe, Ga., directors.

Thursday's sessions were given almost entirely to a discussion of "Credit," and to problems of the manufacturers and jobbers. Several of the most prominent candy men in the south spoke, among them M. H. Dodd, Atlanta, who spoke in behalf of the chain stores, saying that "if you ask a man not to sell the chain stores it is the same thing as asking him to turn business progress back 20 to 30 years." He said chain stores handle 47 per cent of the candy manufactured. Other speakers were: F. R. Warburton, Atlanta; Howard Hamby, Wilmington, N. C.; W. M. Wallace, Atlanta, and C. L. Graesser, Cincinnati, Ohio.

NORMA TALMAGE IN U.S. TO VISIT SICK MOTHER

BROKEN WIRE KILLS
TWO BALTIMOREANS

BALTIMORE, July 16.—(AP)—Two power company employees were killed in near-by Harford county last night when they came into contact with a high tension line broken in a local thunderstorm.

The two, Sam Shortess and George

Gover, were employees of the Consolidated Gas and Electric Company of Baltimore.

The thunderstorm was one of several which brought temporary relief from high temperatures of the last few days. Several persons were prostrated as the mercury reached 95 Tuesday and 96 here yesterday.

Three were overcome today as the temperature started its climb.

SHOALS MUST HELP FARMER, SAYS HURLEY

Development Is No Longer Needed by War Department, He Declares.

FLORENCE, Ala., July 16.—(AP)—Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley today told a joint commission appointed to consider disposition of the government's development at Muscle Shoals that its task would be to find a method for devotion of the project to the interests of agriculture.

Mr. Hurley inspected the $150,000,000 development and went into conference with the commission members, which were appointed by President Hoover and the governors of Alabama and Tennessee to lay groundwork for a basis of future efforts to dispose of the project.

"The progress made in the field of chemistry by industry makes the properties at Muscle Shoals no longer necessary for national defense, whether in time of peace or war," Secretary Hurley told the commission. "Therefore your major purpose is to find a method for its devotion to interests of agriculture."

Co-operation and not dictation will be the policy of the war department in working with the commission to seek a solution for the ten-year-old project, Mr. Hurley said.

He said the nitrate plants were obsolete so far as their use for munitions in time of war was concerned, adding that their use for this purpose in time of war would not be practical as a stabilizer of prices. "The whole thing," he said, "is primarily to establish a great agricultural experiment station for manufacture of fertilizers."

Members of the Alabama commission present were Judge Sam P. Hobbs, Selma, and W. P. McFarland, of Florence. From Tennessee were J. P. Porter, Columbia; Mercer Reynolds, Chattanooga; and W. W. Caldwell, Jackson. Representing the government were Colonel Harvey B. Ferguson and Lieutenant Colonel J. L. McMullen, appointed by President Hoover.

Edward A. O'Neal, designated by the president to represent the national farm organizations, was not present and no appointment has been made to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of L. N. Daugherty, Auburn, one of the Alabama members.

WIFE OF AMERICAN
PASSES IN EUROPE

VEVEY, Switzerland, July 16.—(AP)—Mrs. Marie Theres Branch, wife of Blythe W. Branch, of Richmond, Va., died Tuesday near here. She was the former Mary Theres Branch, and her husband once was president of the Paris Chamber of Commerce. Burial will be in France.

JAMES M. JONES SR., BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 16.—(AP)—James M. Jones Sr., pioneer resident of Alabama, died at his home in Birmingham city commission, and for 23 years a member of the Birmingham police department, died here tonight following a short illness.

"Dad" Jones, as he is familiarly known, was born near Eufaula in early country, and came to this city in 1906. Funeral services will be held Saturday.

STONE SAYS BOARD
CAN'T HELP WHEAT

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(AP)—Chairman Stone of the farm board said today the board was not in a position to attempt price stabilization to relieve the present low price of wheat.

To do so, he said, would mean continuous purchases until next June. "We haven't the funds to stabilize for that length of time," he added.

"The situation in the southwest where farmers are receiving the lowest prices in history could be materially relieved," in Stone's opinion, if the farmers would hold their new crop on the farms. Such action, he believes, would increase the price with the prospect of additional gains next fall should substantial reductions in acreage be made.

WELFARE ASSOCIATION
REVIVED BY CATHOLICS

NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP)—The work of reorganizing the Catholic Near East Welfare Association, Inc., has been completed with Cardinal Hayes designated as president.

An announcement today said Monsignor Amleto Cicognani, secretary of the Sacred Congregation for the Oriental Church, of which Cardinal Sincero is the superior, would return to Rome tomorrow on the Italian liner Biancamano, after two months' spent in this country supervising the reorganization of the association, as directed by the pope.

Cardinal Hayes will exercise personal supervision over the affairs of the association.

At the same time it was announced the Rev. James B. O'Reilly, Ph. D., has been appointed national secretary.

General council Thursday was invited to attend the annual picnic supper of the James L. Key Bible church of the Grace Methodist church at Piedmont park beginning at 6:30 o'clock tonight. The invitation was extended by Ben Brooks, president of the large class, which Mayor Key teaches.

Public hearing on a proposal to annex about 15 square miles of additional territory to the borough is scheduled to begin at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the city hall. It was announced Thursday by Councilman William M. Rogers, chairman of the charter revision committee.

Mary Helen Aycock, 9 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Aycock, of 128 Hurt street, N. E., fell 15 feet from the top of a slide at the Inman park playground Thursday and was rushed to Grady hospital where she is being held for observation and X-ray pictures. The child was unconscious for about 40 minutes.

Invitations to attend the camp of the 122d infantry at Fort McPherson, Ala., July 22, "governor's day," in honor of Governor Richard B. Russell Jr., of Georgia, have been extended to prominent Atlantans by Colonel Gerald P. O'Keefe, commanding officer of the local regiment.

He said the entire camp was scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and a night demonstration at 8 o'clock, Colonel O'Keefe said.

John L. McWaters, whose name figured in newspaper reports of the traffic accident in which Miss Beulah Brand, of 328 Trilby street, was struck by an automobile Tuesday morning and killed, was reported by the police to have been driving the car. Mr. McWaters came upon the scene of the accident shortly after it occurred and it was he who carried the injured woman to the hospital, he stated.

James Bailey, 14, of East Gadsden, Ala., is the object of a search undertaken by Atlanta police Thursday on request of his parents. The boy, missing from his home since June 24, was last heard from near Nashville, and was believed to be on his way to Atlanta.

Seventy thousand dollars in paid and cancelled bonds of the city of Atlanta were burned Thursday morning in the presence of Dr. J. B. Howell, city manager; R. P. Christian, city auditor; and J. Howell Green, secretary of the sinking fund commission. Almost a third of the bonds were not redeemable till 1936 but were purchased by the sinking fund and were along with the others, it was said.

D. M. Therrell, of 882 Park street, former member of the board of education, who was struck down by an automobile at about midnight Wednesday night, was reported to be doing favorably Thursday night at the Piedmont hospital. J. S. Potts, of the city health department, said the injured man, who was 40 years old, was taken to the hospital and later transferred to Grady hospital.

W. H. Thompson, 56, may lose his right leg as the result of an automobile accident on Gordon road Wednesday night. The leg was fractured in two places when the machine plunged from the road after he was blinded by the light of a car. He was taken to his home on Gordon road and later transferred to Grady hospital.

W. H. Jeff, 21, of Cartersville, was seriously injured Thursday morning when he was thrown from a freight train at Cleveland avenue, in Hopeville, while attempting to "catch a ride" to Griffin, to visit his mother. He was taken to the Crawford Long hospital with severe cuts and bruises and possible internal injuries.

O. C. Nally, 32, of Covington road, was taken to Grady hospital Thursday with cuts and bruises about head and legs after a truck which he was driving hit a telephone pole near the intersection of Highland avenue and the Southern Railway. His condition was reported as not serious.

Charlie Gramling will be chief engineer of the waterworks system, if recommendations of the water committee made Thursday afternoon are carried out by council. The committee, headed by Mayor Joseph E. Brown, began a scrutiny of applicants for chemists position, in accordance with a resolution passed by the finance committee to retain three additional ones.

Legion of Justice Tabernacle, at 232 Richardson street, announced that revival services now being held there will be continued through Sunday night. Services are conducted at 7:30 o'clock nights by the Rev. Mel Morris, of Houston, Texas. Singing is led by L. L. Dixon.

Dr. Charles C. Carson, general assembly evangelist of the Southern Presbyterian church, will leave today for Scooba, Miss., where he will conduct a ten-day series of services. Dr. Carson has just concluded a revival at the Midway Presbyterian church near Decatur.

American Legion Post No. 1 Thursday was on record as endorsing a proposed "back-to-the-farm" bill, submitted to the legislature at the recent convention of the department of Georgia. The bill, successfully applied in California, provides for purchase of unoccupied farm lands in the state by veterans. The bill would require the state on the basis of 4-1-2 per cent bonds.

American Airways, southern division, reported Thursday an increase in passenger traffic during the month of June as compared with that of April. In June, 812 passengers were transported as compared with 532 for April, and air mail transportation showed a proportionate increase. Operations report shows that 99.0 per cent of all schedules were completed during the month, only one cancellation being made because of stormy weather.

Traffic accidents in Atlanta for the first half of 1931 exceed by $28 the number of accidents recorded during the corresponding period last year, according to an announcement issued by E. C. Broyles, chairman of the safety and traffic committee of the Atlanta Motor Club. Property damage during the period amounted to $12,441, he announced.

Eva Barnett, 4 years old, of 444 Cooper street, was severely injured Thursday morning when she was run over on her way to school. She was taken to the hospital and later transferred to Grady hospital. She was taken to the hospital and later transferred to Grady hospital.

Grove Park Christian church will continue its series of evangelistic meetings for another week, according to an announcement by the Rev. J. B. Easley, who is conducting the services. Meetings are held nightly at 7:45 o'clock.

Daily Vacation Bible school, conducted at the Capitol View Christian church during the past five weeks, will close Sunday night, it was announced. Thursday work done by pupils at the school will be on display Sunday afternoon at the church, and certificates of merit will be awarded at the closing exercises.

Richard N. Fickett Jr., potentate of Xanadu temple, was pledged the co-operation of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Thursday in entertaining approximately 5,000 Shriners who will attend the first convention of the Southern Shrine Association here next November. Mr. Fickett was instrumental in forming the new organization at the Shrine convention in Cleveland, and in obtaining its first convention for Atlanta.

Mohawk Tribe No. 5, Improved Order of Red Men, will hold its 46th semi-annual installation of officers to night in the Central avenue wigwam, according to an announcement by Fletcher W. Laird, chief of records. A business session at 7:30 o'clock will precede the installation ceremony. Wednesday night, the 46th anniversary of the tribe, will be celebrated by the tribe. The tribe will include L. I. Grubbs, J. H. Brown and C. C. Gillett.

Smoke Threatens Fort Lauderdale, "Old Timers" Say.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., July 16.—(AP)—Muck fires were raging in eight sections of the Everglades today and spreading westward, fanned by a stiff east wind.

The glow from the smoldering flames has turned the night skies red west of here and old timers said Fort Lauderdale will be uninhabitable because of the heavy smoke if the wind should change to the west. A great pall of smoke hangs over the Everglades area here.

Fire fighters said the blazes started in many instances from fires set by white and Indian alligator hunters. The alligators make burrows in the saw grass and the dens are easy to locate if the hunter burns away the grass.

Officials estimated that land being consumed in seven burning sections was conservatively valued at $300,000 or $500 per acre. The fire started in an old plantation drainage district.

CANNON'S BROTHER
GRANTED PAROLE

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(AP)—Harry L. Goldhurst, one-time stockbroker for Bishop Cannon, today was granted a parole by the justice department.

Becoming effective on April 15, 1932, it will cut more than a year from the five-year sentence given him for using the mails to defraud.

The former broker, whose place of business was raided as a racket shop, was sentenced after considerable delay in bringing him to trial.

AIDE IN FEE SPLIT
SHIELDED BY DOYLE

NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP)—Dr. William F. Doyle, retired veterinarian who collected $200,000 in fees while representing patients before the board of standards and appeals, refused today to tell Samuel Seabury, counsel for the legislature's citewide investigation, with whom he split his profits.

He was given a subpoena to appear next Thursday at the first public hearing since the legislative investigation began. If he refuses to answer then, as he has said he will refuse, he will be taken before a supreme court justice and cited for contempt.

This action, it was pointed out today, will define the powers of the legislative investigating committee.

Famous 'Canadian Jewel'
Brings $50,000 At Sale

LONDON, July 16.—(AP)—The famous "Canadian Jewel" believed to be the work of Benvenuto Cellini and found in the treasury of the Kink of Oudh when Delhi was captured in the Indian mutiny, was sold today for $50,000.

It was sold on behalf of the Earl of Hartford, husband of Princess Mary, who inherited it from his great uncle, the second Marquis of Clanricarde.

Will Begin Second Semester

The summer term Monday, offering special courses for teachers in state and city public schools in addition to regular courses.

McBrayer-Leathers reunion will be held next Sunday at the home of Joe Brown McBrayer, near Drakestown, it was announced Thursday. Ancestors of the two families were among the first settlers in northwest Georgia.

H. L. Brewster, given a sentence of 12 months Wednesday by Judge E. D. Thomas in Fulton superior court on a charge of abandonment.

He had his sentence suspended Thursday by the judge on the condition that he pay $40 a month for the maintenance of a minor child.

Judge E. D. Thomas overruled a motion for a new trial on the part of the city of Atlanta, in the case of the Atlanta Title & Trust Company versus the city, which was tried in June. The trust company sought damages for alleged depreciation of property on Alabama and Whitehall streets because of the construction of viaducts, and was awarded a $15,000 decision. The motion for new trial was heard Wednesday but the papers were not signed until Thursday morning by Judge Thomas.

Walter E. Harwell, clerk in the court of Judge H. M. Dorsey, left Atlanta Thursday for Cuba and points in John Winn on his vacation.

The case of McCord et al. versus the Brandon, Bond & Condon undertaking firm to enjoin it from the construction of a funeral home at Peachtree and Seventh streets opened before Judge E. D. Thomas in Fulton superior court Thursday. A temporary injunction was recently granted by Judge G. H. Howard and the hearing on the permanent one began Thursday, but had not been concluded when court recessed until this morning.

A new filing system whereby legal papers are not folded and placed in tight little filing boxes, but are placed in separate dustproof folders and filed separately, was instituted in the clerk's office of the Fulton superior court Thursday. The innovation was made after study of systems used in more than ten courthouses by Clerk J. W. Simmons and Deputy Clerk George Haney.

LEA AND SON FILE
ABATEMENT PLEA

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 16.—(AP) A plea for abatement of prosecution of Colonel Lea, Luke Lea Jr., and P. Charles Lea of Nashville, Tenn., on charges of conspiracy to defraud the closed Central Bank & Trust Company of more than $1,000,000 was filed in superior court here today.

The three, together with two Asheville financiers, are scheduled to go on trial on the charges in superior court here on July 27.

SAVANNAH HURT
IN TENNESSEE CRASH

FRANKLIN, Tenn., July 16.—(AP) Two persons were injured critically and four less so when two cars collided head-on near here tonight.

Most seriously hurt was Henry S. Ryall, 29, Savannah, Ga. A severe skull fracture and body cuts make his recovery doubtful. Vanderbilt University hospital attaches at Nashville reported.

Mrs. F. E. Harris, of Nashville, also received a skull fracture which was considered dangerous.

'Lousy,' Tactless Humor
Not Libel, Court Rules

NEW YORK, July 16.—(UP)—The word "lousy" as applied to a man's efforts is simply a witless remark, the Supreme Court Justice Peter Schuchman ruled today.

Justice Schuchman dismissed the complaint brought by the Shubert Theater Corporation against the magazine, Life. The Shuberts charged that the adjective "lousy" was used in the magazine in reference to their organization.

The court ruled that a person is "lousy" in his engagement and endeavors, the court ruled, "meaning that his efforts are not commendable but rather inferior in result, and on the whole subject to unfavorable criticism, is not libelous per se or libel at all."

TWO-TYNE NAMED IN GAMBLING CHARGES

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 16.—(AP)—Twenty-nine indictments were handed down today by the Orleans parish grand jury against race horse betting establishments as a result of an anti-gambling drive started last week by District Attorney Eugene Stanley.

The district attorney also announced he would not depend on the police to enforce the law against operating racing handbooks, but would employ detectives to get the evidence. When this information reached the "bookies," one hundred of them were reported to have closed their doors today.

The district attorney and Chief of Police H. B. Meyers have been at odds over the "book establishments," that was brought to a head when the district attorney sent the chief of police a list of the illegal establishments. The police raided some of them but the chief announced he was not making any more raids.

Independence, World Accord Compatible, Hoover Thinks

President Declares National Unity and International Understanding Should Go Hand in Hand

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(AP)—National independence and international understanding were portrayed as "not incompatible" elements today by President Hoover in greeting delegates of the International Christian Endeavor Society.

Speaking over the radio from the cabinet room of the White House to the fiftieth anniversary convention of the societies in San Francisco, the chief executive said the organization was "a world force for the promotion of spiritual advancement among our people. It stands for international good will and world peace."

The address followed: "From every state in the United States, from every province of the Dominion of Canada, from Mexico and from a score of countries beyond the seas you have assembled in San Francisco to celebrate the golden anniversary of the International Christian Endeavor Society—an organization devoted to golden deeds and ideals."

"The fiftieth anniversary of the International Christian Endeavor Society is a notable moment in your history. It is significant not only to you, but to the whole nation by reason of your past services and your potentialities for even greater usefulness in the future."

"From an humble beginning in Portland, Maine, in 1881, the Christian

Long Commons Sessions Forced by Insurgents

LONDON, July 16.—(AP)—A handful of "rebel" laborites in the house of commons made parliamentary history last night and this morning by keeping the house in session for 19 1/4 hours, one of the longest sittings it ever has had.

They were attacking the "Anomalies" bill which would make certain changes in the unemployment insurance practice.

Leftwingers offered a long series of amendments which would have virtually destroyed the bill, but they never could muster more than 30 votes and the rest of the liberal party, the conservatives and laborers were solidly against them.

Endeavor movement has become a world force for the promotion of spiritual advancement among our people. The 4,000,000 members in more than 80,000 local units in 125 nations, dominions, states and island groups present an impressive force in spiritual well-being of the world.

"Despite differences in language, tradition and custom, the youth of the world have found in the organization a common ground for spiritual training and service to their church, community and country. It represents the most enduring monument to the idealism, insight and organizing genius of its founder, the late Dr. Francis E. Clark.

"The best index to its purposes and values are the principles it stands for. Its loyalties and ideals make for good citizenship, for character and religious faith. It recognizes that national independence and international understanding are not incompatible. It stands for international good-will and world peace. It is a mighty force for sobriety, righteousness and respect for law, patriotism and spiritual development in every nation.

"It is an appreciated privilege, in behalf of the nation, to greet the delegates from our land and other lands to the convention of the world's Christian Endeavor Union at the fiftieth mile post of this dynamic movement. I congratulate you on the achievement of half a century of practical idealism. You have before you even higher privileges and opportunities to serve with the vigor, courage and idealism of youth in the solution of myriads of problems of the future. Above all, yours is a mission of exemplifying the standards of individual conduct which are the basis of national character. A better world is the mission of youth and it is your mission."

TEXAS HOUSE VOTES INVESTIGATION OF OIL

AUSTIN, Texas, July 16.—(AP)—The house this afternoon adopted a resolution by Representative Satterwhite to resolve itself into a committee of the whole and investigate charges that certain interests of the oil industry were violating the anti-trust laws. The ballot stood 104 to 10.

Both investigations will be made in an effort to determine if the anti-trust laws are being violated by certain persons and firms and if the present chaotic condition of the oil industry has been caused by trusts, monopolies, or agreements made in restraint of trade.

The senate was not in session today, but will resume tomorrow. It was rumored the senate might receive a proposal to conduct a similar investigation.

What was regarded as the administration bill was prepared today by Representatives Robert Wagstaff, of Abilene; Alfred Petrich, of Fredericksburg; A. P. Johnson, of Carizo Springs; and Senator Walter Woodward, of Coleman. It would establish a conservation commission of three members to be appointed by the governor, to take over administration of the conservation laws, now administered by the railroad commission and by the commission.

Authors of the bill stated emphatically it had no connection with any effort to fix the price of oil and deal only with prevention of physical waste.

SHRINE ADJOURNS CLEVELAND MEET

CLEVELAND, July 16.—(AP)—The Shrine of North America presented a second performance of its colorful pageant, "A Night in the Orient," and adjourned its 57th annual convention tonight until next year's meeting in San Francisco.

The Pacific coast city was the only one to present a formal invitation and had offered financial inducements not matched by any other city. Chicago, a leading contender at the start, dropped its campaign.

Thomas J. Houston, of Medinah temple, Chicago, was formally inducted into the office of imperial potentate today.

The imperial council defeated a proposal to abolish the annual convention in favor of a biennial or triennial meeting. A recommendation that the annual dues for crippled children hospitals be increased from $2 to $3 died in committee.

Shrine officials estimated that between 60,000 and 70,000 persons visited Cleveland during the week.

DEMOCRAT ANSWERS TARIFF QUESTIONS

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(AP)—Representative Cannon said today the request of Senator Watson, the republican leader, for a specific plan of tariff revision by the democrats was "easily answered by the farmers of the nation for whose benefit the tariff bill was alleged to have been enacted."

"None of the benefits promised them have materialized," the Missouri democrat said in a statement issued through the democratic national committee, "while the costs of the tariff protected necessities which they must buy have advanced."

"Senator Watson challenges the democrats to reduce the tariff on wheat. The farmer would be delighted to reduce the wheat tariff, which is of no advantage whatever, if the congress would reduce the tariff on steel, aluminum, sisal and chemicals which maintain the price of machinery, binder twine, fertilizer and other farm necessities at war-time prices while he received less than the cost of production for his wheat, hogs and other products without corresponding benefit to the consumer."

'Round-World Race Won By Westward Traveler

TOKYO, July 16.—(AP)—Kenzo Fukuma, traveling in a westward direction, today won a race around the world against Suetatsu Shingu, who followed an eastward route.

Traveling on regular passenger airplanes wherever available, the racers carried out their feat under the auspices of the Asahi Japanese newspaper.

Fukuma completed his trip in 31 days and 6 hours, while Shingu required 35 days 7 hours. Both flew across the United States.

SHERIFF SHOT TO DEATH BY CAROLINA VETERAN

Officer Is Slain While Answering Call to Slayer's Home.

SALISBURY, N. C., July 16.—(AP)—Sheriff Locke M. McKenzie, of Rowan county, was shot and killed here today by Scott Winders, a World War veteran.

Winders opened fire on McKenzie with a shotgun shortly after the sheriff had gone to the Winders' home in response to a telephone message from Mrs. Winders. The entire load took effect and McKenzie died before he could be put into an ambulance.

Winders recently had returned to Salisbury after being treated in several government hospitals for shell shock and other after-effects of wounds received during the war.

Sheriff's office was told over the telephone by Mrs. Winders today that her husband was talking irrationally and she asked that an officer be sent to her home. McKenzie answered the call and was shot down soon after entering the door.

Winders was lodged in jail pending an inquest.

Roosevelt Stresses Salesmanship Value

NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP)—A course in traveling salesmanship as a prerequisite to politics was recommended tonight by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York.

He spoke by radio to the annual convention of the National Council of Traveling Salesmen's Association here, official business in Albany having prevented him from attending.

"The traveling salesman, the governor said, 'learns more and understands more of the economic problems of our country and the causes that underlie both prosperity and depression than 99 out of 100 of our citizens.'

SERIOUS RIOTING BREAKS OUT IN INDIA

BOMBAY, July 16.—(AP)—The Evening News of India today reports that grave riots occurred at Pudukkottai, capital of the state of Pudukkottai, yesterday.

A mob of thousands attacked public offices, the reports said, and committed incendiarism. Overpowering the police and military, it stormed the jail, released all the prisoners, disabled the police commissioner and attacked the residence of the president of the council administration.

A detachment of a punjabi regiment was dispatched from Trichinopoly this morning.

The trouble was said to have been started by rowdy elements, ostensibly in protest against a proposal to increase property taxes.

PRESIDENT INVITED TO ADDRESS CHIEFS

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(AP)—President Hoover today was invited to address the 38th annual convention of the chiefs of police of America to be held in St. Petersburg, Fla., October 12 to 15.

The invitation, extended by Arthur R. Thompson and W. J. Howey, of St. Petersburg, was taken under consideration.

FOES OF DEPORTATION DRAW FIRE OF DOAK

Secretary of Labor Calls
Aliens' Champions
"Un-American."

ALEXANDRIA, Va., July 16.—(AP)—Secretary Doak today denounced as "un-American" those organizations which, he said, attempt to prevent the deportation of aliens who advocate "the annihilation of our democratic form of government."

Speaking before the Alexandria Kiwanis Club, across the Potomac river from Washington, the secretary of labor said he could not understand "these precious ones" whose slogan seems to be "America last" and who "love every country but their own."

Despite their opposition, Doak recalled, the labor department in the last fiscal year deported 18,000 aliens, who proved undesirable or who had entered the country illegally.

"Many of these aliens," he said, "were affiliated with organizations whose announced purpose it is to overthrow the government of the United States by force and violence."

"It is to prevent the deportation of aliens of this kind that the energies of certain individuals and societies are directed. There are persons and societies in this country who sneer at the word 'patriotism.' They believe and preach that a man has a right to advocate by speech or by writing the annihilation of our democratic form of government, and . . . to go untouched by the law."

FARM WASTE TESTS WILL BE EXPANDED

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(AP)—The agriculture department is ready to expand its experiments on utilizing such farm by-products as corn stalks, straw and oat, rice and cottonseed hulls from a laboratory to a factory basis.

Arrangements are being made this week by Dr. W. W. Skinner, of the bureau of chemistry and soils, to operate a factory at Ames, Iowa, in cooperation with the commerce department and the Iowa State College.

Congress appropriated $75,000 for these experiments.

"The farmer," Dr. Skinner said, "has to raise about one and one-half pounds of waste material to every pound of grain he produces."

This represents a loss of fertility and brings on an immediate problem of disposal.

Shock Puts Atlanta Father in Hospital After Only Son Drowns in Small Lake

Three principals in the lake tragedy that took the life of an 11-year-old child. On the left, Hugh Boyd Earnest Jr., 11, who was drowned; in the center, C. Malon Price, 18, who became exhausted in an attempt to save young Earnest and was himself going down for the last time when dragged to safety by 12-year-old John H. Granberry (right).

Grim tragedy Thursday brought to an end an overnight fishing trip that a father had taken with his only child and two youthful companions, as the waters of a small lake just off of Mayson-Turner road near the Chattahoochee river claimed the life of Hugh Boyd Earnest Jr., age 11, and would have taken that of a companion had it not been for the heroic efforts of John Granberry, age 12.

The drowning occurred shortly before 6 o'clock Thursday morning as the three boys were wading about in a small lake formed by spring water in a place where clay had been cut out for the making of brick. They were seeking minnows for fish bait while the father of the drowned lad was fishing in the river, a quarter of a mile away.

Wednesday night Hugh B. Earnest Sr., of 237 Crumley street, S. W., accompanied by young Hugh, C. Malon Price, 18, of 255 Richardson street, and young Granberry, of 231 Crumley street, S. W., went to the lake on property of the Chattahoochee Brick Company, and camped for the night. While wading in the lake young Earnest stepped into water beyond his depth, about 15 feet from shore and began to cry for help, as he could not swim. Price, who could swim a little, went to his aid, but was grabbed by the diving boy and himself pulled under.

Granberry then crawled out upon a tree root and grabbed the hand of Price as he came up for the third time, and started pulling him to the bank. The root broke and he was thrown into the water also, but managed to get Price safely to the bank. When he turned to help young Earnest it was too late. Granberry cannot swim more than five feet, he overruled. County police were notified of the affair and Lieutenant J. M. Carroll and Officer Ernest Hornsby were dispatched to the scene. On arrival they found the father in a state of collapse, he having fainted when persons started diving for the body of his only child.

A man whose initials were not learned, but whose last name is said to be Self, of Bremen, Ga., recovered the body. He got off of a passing motor bus and helped in the work. Young Price stated to reporters that he had gotten the man's last name and the fact that he lived at Bremen, and that he intended to write him a letter of thanks.

Granberry and Price were taken to their homes and were reported to be none the worse physically from their experience, but somewhat shaken by the shock. The county officers stated that each time the father of the drowned child was revived that he would faint again, and he was then taken to Grady hospital, where late Thursday night he was reported to be in a serious condition from the shock.

The body of the lake victim was removed to the funeral home of J. Austin Dillon Company, where arrangements will be completed later. The child is survived only by his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Earnest, and his grandmother, Mrs. M. L. Earnest.

Daughter of Famous Barrymore to Croon In Musical Comedy

NEW YORK, July 16.—(UP)—Miss Ethel Barrymore Colt, 19-year-old daughter of the great Ethel, is determined to make a reputation for herself in musical comedy if she has to croon to do it.

Miss Colt said as much today during a lull in rehearsals of George White's "Scandals," in which she will appear this fall.

"Certainly," the brunette young heir to the Barrymore tradition said, "certainly I can put over a lot more. Why, I already sang 'Love Is Like That' for Mr. White and he liked it. I can croon if necessary."

So it appears that the Drew-Barrymore tradition of fine-play-acting and dignified drama is definitely on the drift. Since Miss Colt has signed a contract to appear in the "Scandals," and since George White put himself on record today as favoring both her voice, her personality and her dramatic ability, one might say that the die has been cast.

The prospect of having her daughter do the rumba and shout "Hot-cha-cha" for the dramatic critics does not offend the sensibilities of her famous mother. In fact, Ethel Barrymore accompanied Miss Colt to White's office for the ceremony of signing the contract, and posed beside Ethel Jr. as cameramen recorded the momentous event.

Glitter of Gems Marks Royal Ball At Buckingham

LONDON, July 16.—(AP)—The king wore the kilt at the royal ball at Buckingham palace tonight.

King George was in the full dress uniform of a colonel-in-chief of the Black Watch when he walked into the ballroom with Queen Mary, who wore a gown of ivory colored chiffon, embroidered with pearls and diamonds, at his side.

Pearls and diamonds shone also on the corsage of the queen's gown, and she wore the Order of the Garter. They led the royal cotillion at their entrance, and were the central figures around which a gay pageant revolved.

It was an eventful night—the first time the king and queen have given a private ball at the palace in 19 years.

Every woman present wore long, white kid gloves and many carried fans, while nearly all wore glittering gowns. The older women wore tiaras of precious stones.

The men were in court dress and in evening clothes with knee breeches. Officers paraded their swords on the gilt chairs around the edge of the ballroom during dances.

Beneath the soft golden light of the great palace chandeliers a string band of the royal artillery played the music of old time waltzes and some of the jazz tunes, including "The Peanut Vendor" at the request of the queen.

There was some surprise at the omission of tangoes from the dance program. The Prince of Wales was supposed to have requested their inclusion, and it was supposed until tonight that they would be played.

ENGINEER ELECT NEW OFFICERS

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 16.—(AP)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen today selected Milwaukee as the site of its next convention in 1934. This year's meeting, in session here since June 8, is expected to close tomorrow.

Five vice presidents were named today. They are H. M. Van Sant, Hazelton, Pa.; C. J. Goff, Birmingham, Ala.; S. A. Boone, St. Louis; H. H. Lynch, Ottawa, Canada, and A. J. Lovell, Washington.

ONE KILLED, ONE HURT IN ALABAMA WRECK

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 16.—(AP)—Mrs. Jack Hill was killed and Mrs. Jack Bethea, widow of the late Jack Bethea, for many years editor of the Birmingham Post, was seriously injured when their automobile struck a concrete post and overturned on a highway near here today.

SMART LEADS PLANES TO SAN ANTONIO FIELD

All National Air Tour Fliers
Land During Heavy Rain.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 16.—(AP)—Driving through a heavy rainstorm, James H. Smart, Pine Bluff, Ark., brought his Ford tri-motor plane down here at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon to lead the field in the national air tour. All planes landed in a downpour.

L. R. Hayes, Springfield, Mass., landed his Gee Bee sportster second, followed by Harry L. Russell, of Dearborn, Mich., in a Ford tri-motor. The others arrived here in the following order:

Eddie Stinson, Detroit; Jack Storey, Kansas City; Eddie Schneider, New York; Lieutenant Lee Gehlbach, Brooklyn; Joe Meahan, Marysville, Mich.; Captain William N. Lancaster, New York; Lieutenant L. S. Flo, Detroit; Z. D. Granville, Springfield, Mass.; E. W. (Pop) Cleveland, Cleveland, Ohio; Captain Louis A. Yancey, Toledo, Ohio.

George Edward Dixon, of Cincinnati, whose plane was damaged at New Orleans, was expected to reach San Antonio from Corpus Christi, and continue with the tour to Fort Worth tomorrow.

Walter Lees, Detroit, chief timer, delayed at New Orleans by plane damage, was expected to arrive here from Houston tonight. Jimmy Doolittle, starter, arrived with the party of contestants.

Captain Louis A. Yancey, flying an Autogiro, arrived after 6 o'clock. He stopped en route from Corpus Christi to refuel.

Before the hop from Corpus Christi, Russell was rated second, Smart was second and Hayes third.

WOMEN'S BUREAU HITS DRINKING FOUNTAINS

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(AP)—The vertical jet drinking fountain was under indictment today by the United States women's bureau.

The slant-stream fountain or individual paper drinking cup was urged in its stead.

Fifteen specific diseases were traced to the vertical bubbler in the bureau's just-issued bulletin, Sanitary Drinking Facilities. Tabulation of 1,506 places of employment in 21 states showed only 49 using the recommended jet fountains, 25 per cent made no provisions.

Miss Agnes L. Peterson, acting chief, stressed the study as most important to the health of women workers.

Lightning Kills Man At Bedside of Mother

CHICAGO, July 16.—(AP)—The story of how a man was struck dead by lightning while standing at the bedside of his mother, believed dying, was told today by Frank Donly, a secretary employed in the Chicago office of Judge Frederick De Young of the Illinois supreme court.

Leonidas Jeffers, a wealthy farmer of Auburn, Neb., and cousin of Donly, was the victim. Donly said Jeffers left Nebraska to hurry to the bedside of his mother, who was ill at the home of Jeffers' sister, Mrs. G. B. Gallinger, in Galien, Mich. He arrived Tuesday. Just as he was shown to his mother's room a bolt of lightning flashed through the window, killing him. His mother escaped unharmed.

NEW GENIUS NEEDED, DAMROSCH DECLARES

NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP)—This age is musically inarticulate, Walter Damrosch, veteran orchestra conductor, declared today. "We need a new genius," he added, "a new Wagner or Beethoven who will turn music in a different direction."

Mr. Damrosch returned from a season in Hollywood and San Francisco with the optimistic statement, however, that although musical composition is now at low ebb, music appreciation is greater than ever before, partly because of radio's effects upon public thought.

TALMADGE ACTION IS UNDER INQUIRY

Purchase of Hogs Is Investigated by Senate Committee.

Hogs that were bought to kill "hard" and "soft," occupied two hours of the time of a special senate committee appointed to investigate a $14,000 expenditure of Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture, Thursday afternoon.

State Auditor Tom Wisdom, in his annual report of the department of agriculture, said that Talmadge had illegally used funds that should have first gone into the treasury. Talmadge, before the committee, exhibited an opinion from the attorney general which declared that he acted within the scope of the law which created the bureau of markets.

ABYSSINIA ADOPTS NEW CONSTITUTION

ADDIS ABABA, Abyssinia, July 16.—(AP)—A new constitution was proclaimed today in the throne hall by Emperor Haile Selassie.

The constitution provides for a bicameral legislative system, makes the emperor's assent necessary before laws become effective, and reserves the right to succession to the throne to the present dynasty.

A dignified ceremony marked the proclaiming of the constitution.

Boy, 13, Over 7 Feet Tall; Finds Beds Here Too Small

ROBERT WADLOW AND HIS FATHER.

BY WILLIAM O. KRY JR.
In a land of giants Robert Wadlow would be just a little boy, because he is only 13 years old.

As it is, though, you would have to search far and wide to find a Hercules who could wrestle successfully with Robert, because he stands 7 feet 4 1/4 inches in his stocking feet, weighs 290 pounds and has the strength of several normal 13-year-old boys.

Robert Wadlow is from Alton, Ill., and he, his father and three other Wadlow children—all normal physically—are visiting Robert's aunt, Mrs. August Perry, at 29 Peachtree way. Which must be somewhat of a problem for Mrs. Perry, because ordinarily people don't have 8 1/2-foot beds, and that's the kind of a bed Robert sleeps in up at his home in Alton.

And if Robert goes in at a shoe shine parlor to have his boots blacked, some shoe shiner is going to put in a lot of overtime work, because this gigantic youngster wears a size 39. They are made to order, of course, and look somewhat like the kind the Old Woman with many children lived in. All of Robert Wadlow's wearing apparel is made to order.

When Robert was born, on February 22, 1918, he was just a nine-pound bouncing baby boy. At six months he was still chubby, but his avoirdupois had jumped to 30 pounds. Eighteen months later the scales flicked around to the 62-pound mark, and since then, his father said Thursday, he hasn't had time to keep up with the periodic increase. He does know, though, that in the last 13 months Robert's height has increased 4 1/4 inches and 28 pounds have been added to his rather proportionate bulk.

A St. Louis specialist has predicted bigger things for Robert, his deep voice, his strength, his maturity height at the age of 18 or 19, but in Robert's case the specialist predicted that he will continue to grow taller and bigger until he is at least 20 years of age. Mr. Wadlow said the St. Louis doctor foresees a maximum height of nine feet for the boy, with proportionate increase in weight. It is all a matter of the pituitary gland, the father said, yet the boy's family has no recollection of any injury that could have produced such abnormal growth.

"Robert has never been sick in his life," Mr. Wadlow said. "He has just finished junior high school up at Alton, and he has not once missed a day from his classes because of illness. I intend for him to continue through high school and college."

Mr. and Mrs. Wadlow and the other Wadlow children are normal in size. The mother is 5 feet 4 inches in height, while the father stands 5 feet 11 inches. Even at the age of eight Robert could pick his father up like a child and carry him about the house, and from the comparative size of the two now it will be just too bad if dad ever decides that Robert needs a spanking.

The Wadlows traveled by automobile to Atlanta. It was necessary to attach a trailer for the baggage—not for Robert—so the big lad could occupy a back seat to himself, all doubled up like a jackknife. Mr. Wadlow, who is connected with the Well Petroleum Corporation at Alton, said a special car is being built for Robert.

The giant son is the oldest Wadlow child. Next in age is Helen, 11, a regular sized child, Eugene, 9, also normal, and Betty, 7, ditto. He is truly their big brother.

And those hands—you should see them! From wrist to finger tip measures 11 inches. From thumb to little finger, spread, measures just a bit more. And a metacarpal measurement—across the back of the hand—is 6 1/2 inches. He's a good boy, but don't ever try to shake hands with him!

MRS. MARY HENDERSON, SOCIAL LEADER, DIES

BAR HARBOR, Maine, July 16.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary F. Henderson, of Washington, D. C., widow of the late United States Senator John Brooks Henderson, of Missouri, died here tonight. She was 90 years old.

In February of this year she offered her Sixteenth street mansion as a vice presidential mansion, but congress failed to accept the offer.

Mrs. Beatrice Van Rensselaer Henderson, who for 40 years had been accepted in society as Mrs. Henderson's granddaughter, brought suit to prevent completion of the transaction on the grounds that her grandmother was no longer mentally competent. Mrs. Henderson then disinherited Mrs. Van Rensselaer and disclosed she was a founding adopted by her son and his wife.

Prior to Mrs. Henderson's trip to Bar Harbor the two women had not spoken, but a reconciliation was effected after Mrs. Henderson was stricken.

Mrs. Henderson was an ardent prohibitionist. Soon after the passage of the Volstead act she destroyed a cellarful of liquor which had been stored by her husband, who died in 1913. She estimated the value of the stock at several hundred thousand dollars.

CHARLES H. HOLT.
PORTLAND, Maine, July 16.—(AP)—Charles H. Holt, one of the last survivors of the U. S. S. Monitor, of the War Between the States, died today at the age of 83.

He served as gunner boy on the vessel when only 13 years old, and was aboard when she battled the Merrimack. Later he was on the Kearsarge when she met the Alabama.

GEO. S. DOUGHERTY.
NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP)—George S. Dougherty, formerly second deputy police commissioner and chief of detectives, died today. He had been in ill health since an operation four months ago for a severe stomach disorder.

MANCHESTER GETS RESPITE OF 60 DAYS

Earl Manchester, under sentence to die July 28 for the murder of J. H. Parks, Haverhill youth, in Macon, Thursday was granted a respite of 60 days by Governor Richard B. Russell, at the request of the state prison commission.

The prison commission desires the additional time in order to study the record of the Manchester conviction and go into the case more thoroughly. Governor Russell was advised, Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Powers, Macon boarding house keeper, is under a life sentence, the state charging that Parks was killed in an insurance murder plot instigated by Mrs. Powers.

CHILE DECLARES 'DEBT VACATION'

Moratorium on Foreign Obligations Will Continue to August 1.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 16.—Premier Blanquier today declared a moratorium on the foreign debt until August 1, and immediately set in motion a governmental house-cleaning to effect economies.

The premier, whose government is only two days old, announced that for the rest of July interest and service charges on foreign obligations, estimated to be about $2,040,000, would be deposited locally and held in trust. After August 1 a decision will be made about future payments.

This action ties up interest expected by holders of Chilean bonds, most of whom are residents of the United States and England.

As an earnest that the government was doing its best to cope with the economic situation caused by the world depression and the disorganized mineral and nitrate markets the premier immediately decreed large salary reductions.

The reductions affect employees, minister to office boys, and the army and navy.

Chile's total foreign debt is about $485,000,000, of which approximately $800,000,000 is in short-term notes.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies do not give quick and permanent relief?

Why cutting does not remove the cause?

Do you know the cause of piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts almost dead?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leonard and known as HEM-ROID that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel—drives out the thick impure blood, heats and restores the affected parts. This remedy has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sufferers.

Don't waste time on external remedies or think of an operation until you have tried a bottle of HEM-ROID tablets. Jacobs drug stores guarantee money back if they do not end piles in any form.—(adv.)

COMMITTEE BACKS ROAD BOARD BILL

Measure, Widening Powers of Commission, Given Approval.

The house committee on public highways Thursday ordered reported favorably a bill giving the state highway board power to condemn property for rights of way and pay for such property out of gasoline tax proceeds.

The measure would take from the counties present participation in state-aid roads.

The committee also voted to recommend the passage of a substitute bill to fix the venue of all equity suits against the highway board.

A measure to permit sheriffs to collect delinquent auto tag taxes instead of specially appointed inspectors was referred to a subcommittee.

The ways and means committee of the house spent the afternoon in a public hearing on the bill of Representative Key, of Jasper, which would continue the general sales tax, slated to expire this year, for another two years, striking out limitations and offset sections of the present law.

Merchants File Protests.

Merchants' organizations and individual retail dealers, primarily affected by the sales tax, appeared in large numbers before the committee to protest against the continuation of the tax.

Clen Powers, an Atlanta lawyer, representing a retail association of merchants, told the committee that the merchants were promised two years ago that at the close of the present year the law would not be operative again, and they assented to the fixing of the tax under that condition.

Powers insisted that other means for raising revenue be found and that the state keep its pledge to the merchants made two years ago.

Others who spoke in opposition to the bill were R. B. Ivey, Albany; E. K. Dominguez, Griffin; F. L. Brinson, Augusta; Jake Bernstein, Athens; Mayor Holden, Dallas; F. S. Stewart, Macon, and many others.

Representative Key, author of the original law and also of the present bill, told the delegations that while he did not personally favor the sales tax it was the only method he knew of at the present time that would bring in revenue to aid in meeting the deficit in the state finances.

Representative Key urged members of the delegations of merchants to tell the committee what other sources of revenue they knew and the committee would be glad to consider any proposals.

Action on the bill was continued over until next Tuesday.

Hearing Next Monday.

The constitutional amendments act next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock for a public hearing on the bill of Representative Beaman, of DeKalb, calling for a referendum by the people on a constitutional convention.

The measure would provide an election on the first Wednesday in October for the referendum and if the convention was voted, it would be held in Atlanta in January of next year.

The committee voted out favorably a senate bill to amend the constitution to permit employment by counties of county farm agents and home demonstration agents.

The constitutional amendments committee also acted on three Confederate pension bills.

An amendment that would make widows eligible who married prior to January 1 of this year and another amendment that those who married prior to October 2, 1920, would be eligible for pensions were addressed by the committee.

The third of these measures, a bill amending the constitution, making widows eligible who married prior to 1893, was favorably acted on and will be recommended for passage to the house.

The bill of Representative Stewart, of Coffee, to regulate and license commission merchants in the state was referred to a subcommittee by the consent of the majority on agricultural committee No. 2 of the house.

Chiroprapy Bill Referred.

The house committee on hygiene and sanitation held a public hearing on a bill to legalize chiropractic, but did not take final action, referring the matter to a subcommittee.

A bill to regulate the practice of chiropractic was also referred to a subcommittee.

Establishment of kindergartens in the public schools where funds are obtainable Thursday received approval of the education committee of the senate. This senate bill sets standards of teachers. Mrs. Clifford Walker, wife of the ex-governor, state pre-school chairman; Miss Alice Mann, president of the state committee of education for labor; George W. Powell, past president of the Atlanta board of education; Miss Ethel Massengale, kindergarten primary superintendent of Atlanta schools; and Mrs. P. G. Hanahan, chairman of the Child Welfare League, appeared in behalf of the bill.

The education committee of the senate also approved a resolution authorizing appointment of a committee of three, including the state superintendent of schools, to consider the sound teacher retirement laws of other states and recommend legislation.

The senate judiciary committee No. 2 passed favorably on a house bill equalizing inheritance of maternal and paternal half-blood relatives, and also on a senate bill permitting minors to invest in stock of building and loan associations.

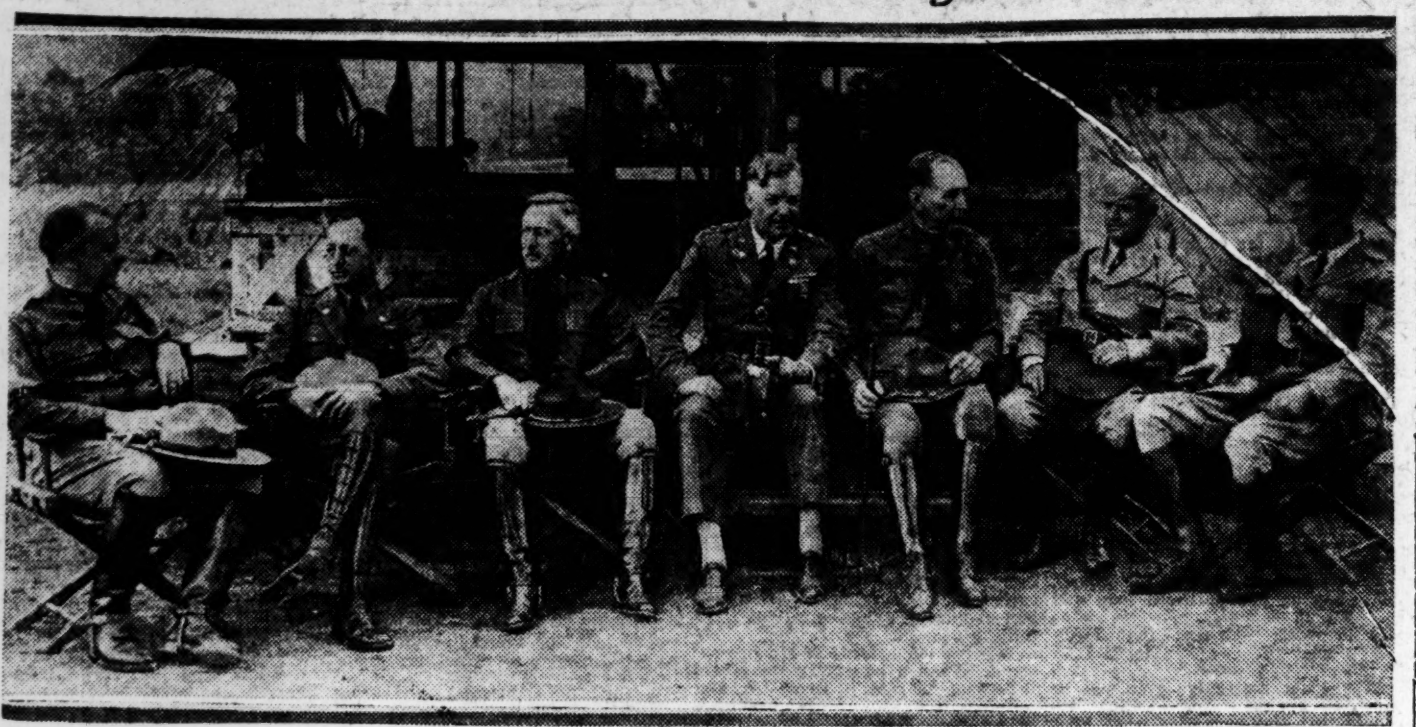

The finance committee of the senate will meet at 9 o'clock this morning in the office of the comptroller-general to pass on a bill reducing small loan interest.

The education committee of the house Thursday acted favorably on a senate bill to permit voters in independent school systems, in counties having such systems to vote for the county school superintendent.

The vote was 10 to 9 and a minority report will be filed. The bill excepted Fulton county.

A bill by the Richmond delegation prohibiting night labor of women and minors under 18 years of age was approved Thursday night by the labor and labor statistics committee of the house, and another bill by the same delegation, limiting the daily and weekly working hours of textile mills, was voted back to the authors to be re-drawn.

The second bill, as originally drawn, limits textile mill employees, in silk, rayon, cotton or woolen mills, to an eight-hour day and 48-hour week. The bill will be re-drawn on a 10-55-hour basis, with a provision exempting knitting mills, which operate under seasonal conditions.

Those speaking in favor of the bills were Mrs. Emmett Quinn, J. B. Daniel, of Augusta; Miss Lillian Wade, A. Steve Saxe, and members of the Richmond delegation, Representatives Lanier, Lester and Cartledge. Opposed to the night labor bill were Mrs. Douglas Swagerty, of Atlanta, and Miss Josephine Casey, of Washington, representing the National Woman's party. T. M. Forbes, secretary of the Georgia Cotton Manufacturers Association, and J. P. McGrath, secretary of the Georgia Manufacturers Association, opposed both bills.

SENATE APPROVES WILHOIT FOR POST

position to the bill and paid high tribute to the work that has been done under the administration of Dr. C. F. Abernethy, the present commissioner. Representative Lanier, of Richmond, also registered his protest at the recommendation.

Representative H. B. Edwards, of Lowndes, one of the members of the recess committee and one of the authors of the bill, made the principal defense of the section which completely revamps the health department and removes from its supervision the Graceland School for the Feeble-minded and the tubercular hospital at Alto.

Big Lobby Charged.

Edwards declared that the board of health had promoted one of the biggest lobbies ever known in Georgia's legislative halls to fight the reorganization bill "while the overburdened taxpayers of Georgia are not able to send anybody here to lobby for it."

No one thinks more of the state department of health and the good work it has done than do the members of this committee," the Lowndes member said, "but the people of this state are entitled to have more than half a million dollars annually, made accountable to somebody—either to the governor or to the people of Georgia."

The bill abolishes the present board of health and creates one commissioner in charge of all state health work. An amendment which has been drafted by the Chatham delegation, providing that the appointment of the commissioner shall be made from a list of five doctors submitted to the governor by the Georgia Medical Society, or from the qualified list of public health officers of the bureau of public health service of the United States, is pending. Proponents of the bill have not indicated whether it is acceptable to them.

The only change made in the section dealing with the department of audits and accounts was to place the supervisor of purchases created in the bill, under the executive department instead of under the department. The salary of this official was fixed at $4,000 per annum.

An amendment by Representative King, of Clay, to end the term of the present commissioner of pensions for the effective date of the bill, January 1, 1932, was defeated. The committee measure provides that he shall be retained for the period elected, or until June 1, 1932.

Reports of Delay Denied.

Governor Russell submitted the appointment of Mr. Wilhoit Friday morning after the session had been under way about half an hour. The senate immediately went into executive session to vote confirmation.

Prior to receiving the appointment, Roy Harris, of the eighteenth district, arose to a point of personal privilege to deny that any attempt had been made yesterday to block receipt of the appointment.

Senator Harris said he was moved to speak by reports that the senate had adjourned suddenly when it was learned that Governor Russell intended to submit Mr. Wilhoit's name.

Harris, who represents the district in which John R. Phillips lives, said that the calendar was clear at the time he moved to adjourn and that neither he nor the president of the senate had been informed of Mr. Russell's intentions.

The president officer and himself have done all in their power to cooperate with the governor, Mr. Harris said. Reports to the contrary were prompted, "by some ulterior motive," he declared.

Regimental headquarters of the 122nd Infantry, Georgia national guard (above) was host to distinguished army officers Thursday at Fort McEllan, Aniston, Ala. In the top picture (left to right) are Colonel Gerald P. O'Keefe, commander of the Atlanta unit; Adjutant General Charles Cox, General Pershing (not "Black Jack"); Major General William G. Everson, chief of the militia bureau; Major General Blanding, Colonel James M. Kimbrough Jr., senior army instructor for the Georgia national guard, and Lieutenant Colonel L. H. Smith. Lower photo shows machine gun crew in action with Private W. H. Mize (left) and Private W. O. Wilson, of Atlanta, at their posts.

Fort McEllan, Ala., July 16.—Approximately nine hundred young men, members of the 122nd Infantry, of Atlanta, and nearby points, are bivouaced tonight on a lonely plain four miles from this camp and are preparing for the first time this summer actual field training and catch-as-catch-can living in the open.

With only tiny pup tents, firetraps and mess kits, the boys left headquarters early this morning and marched the four miles to the rifle range on the edge of this big government reservation. All during the day the roar of the machine guns resounded through the surrounding forests and mountainsides.

All day Friday marksmanship will be the order of the day and late in the afternoon troops will take up the march back to their more comfortable tent quarters and mess kitchens in the camp area proper.

Only spare parts units and the necessary camp details were kept from the trip with the rifle companies.

Major-General William G. Everson, militia bureau, and Colonel J. M. Kimbrough Jr., senior instructor of Georgia troops, were among prominent directors of the reorganization of officers of the regiment yesterday.

General Everson left by plane early today for a trip through the west on an inspection tour, while General Cox and Colonel Kimbrough returned to their posts in Atlanta. In the meantime, Captain Roy S. Gibson, regular army officer and junior instructor of the regiment, has charge of training schedules and heads the list of instructors assigned for the duration of the camp by the war department.

As Georgia troops were leaving the camp area for the two-day rifle range work, General Everson, the head of the national guard office of the war department, turned to Colonel G. P. O'Keefe, who was heading the long line of troops and complimented upon the solidly appearance and snap of officers and men alike.

"Colonel, I want to say to you that the spirit of your officers is one of the finest things I ever saw," the general said, "and I want you to know that the condition of your camp and the personnel and general conduct of your command are most praiseworthy."

General Cox and Colonel Kimbrough said they shared the sentiment expressed by the general and thanked General Everson on behalf of Georgia for his kind expressions. General Cox was the first colonel of the regiment following its reorganization just after the war.

of these sign a petition seeking Key's recall before an election can be held. "Key Won't Budge."

Interest in the new turn of the campaign was shown Thursday afternoon when scores of persons called the executive office to pledge co-operation and other calls censured the mayor.

Key intimated early Thursday that he may take the platform and defend his views. He curtly turned down an invitation to "cash in" on the notoriety his utterances have given him when he refused an invitation of Russell Bridges, president of the Alkaline Lyceum bureau, to debate Dr. Walter Anthony, of Macon, on the question, with a clause that proceeds of the appearance should be divided between the speakers after the expenses were paid.

He said he would not debate at this time because of ill health, but when he is ready to take the platform, he will insist that the public be admitted without any charge and that neither of the speakers get "anything." He added that he would pay half the expense of the meeting, if he decided to take the stump.

He will speak next Monday night at a dinner given by the Savannah Chamber of Commerce, and on August 13 will address the Chattanooga Rotary Club.

Mrs. Marvin Williams, president of the W. C. T. U. of Georgia, who, in a delegation, Wednesday called on Key for his views regarding prohibition and to pray with Key for enforcement, issued a statement Thursday in which she said that the conference "may result in much good for Atlanta."

Manget Scores Mayor.

In announcing the recent movement, Manget scored Key as a man "who has ignored the result of a large mass meeting that he resigned," and as one who "coffed at the public and given many years to the fight for prohibition."

He sent letters to editors of the three Atlanta dailies and also dispatched letters to leading citizens and friends of the dry laws appealing for financial aid in the drive to oust the mayor.

"No one cares a rap about whether or not Jim Key, the individual, loves his liquor, drinks it, or advocates its repeal or nullification of the prohibition laws, but for Jim Key, mayor of Atlanta, capital of the great prohibition state of Georgia, to tell the world that the law is a failure and that the people are a different thing," Manget said.

"Key swore he would enforce the laws, and five months later—in his unparalleled egotism—stamps the law a failure, and, as chief executive of a great city, tells his underlings—many of whom love their liquor and drink it—that the law cannot be enforced."

"May God deliver this city and nation from men who will swear to do a thing in January and in May say it cannot be done and hang onto their job with a big salary, automobile and a chauffeur at $200 per month.

"The recall is necessary and the law-abiding people of Atlanta will vote for it."

"The youth of America have not had a chance in this fight and the law itself has been trampled on by many sworn to enforce it; no wonder we have liquor lovers and many weak men who do not even drink liquor say 'it cannot be enforced.' Tell the truth about it, let our youth see it from both sides, for they have only had one side to judge the law from."

"Key was elected because he stated that he was personally and politically dry, and because, being an officer of the Methodist church and a teacher of a large Bible class, voters accepted his dry statement."

"Key will not resign, and his recall must be effected in order that his utterances as mayor played up over the entire nation will be discredited, and in order that our youth may no longer be influenced by such wet propaganda, and most of all because our laws must, for they have only had one side to judge the law from."

"Our plans are complete, and are as follows:—All petitions will be kept private until after the required number are secured."

"Volunteer workers cannot afford the time necessary to the work in order to get quick results, so it was voted that reliable men, or men and women, be put to work in each ward to secure signed petitions. This cost will pay these workers for their time and expense on the basis of 15 cents for each petition signed by a registered voter; as it only requires $600 the cost will amount to only $900. We must raise this sum or have it guaranteed, and our men and women will go to work."

"Everyone who has studied the situation is convinced that we will have no difficulty in securing the required number if the voters are approached, and it is only fair that workers receive compensation."

"The other expenses have been arranged for, and this $900 will be paid out only upon certified checking against the registration lists, and for no other purpose whatever."

Mayor Key Thursday night said he had nothing to say regarding the recall petition, adding he did not know whether he would make one or not even at a later date.

PROBE WELCOME, CAMP DECLARES

Printing Superintendent
Answers Charges Made in House.

Complaints and charges against the state department of public printing always come from the same source, an element which wants the state's business not by fair and open bidding at honest prices in competition with other printers, but by brow-beating and political pressure, Josephus Camp, superintendent of the department, charged Thursday in a statement. Mr. Camp welcomed an investigation and said that he has no doubt about the outcome.

Mr. Camp's statement follows: "To the public: Under Georgia laws, the charge of favoritism in awarding contracts to the State Printing Company, made by a representative of a dissatisfied bidder on the pending state contract, are the same in character as have been made from time to time over a period of several years, and from the same sources. They have all been thoroughly investigated and nothing whatever found to substantiate them. In this connection it is significant that the charges have all been made by officials of certain printing concerns. It is also significant that on the very day the state printing contract was awarded to a certain printer this new resolution was introduced in the house.

Awarded By Commission.
The state commission on printing, of which the superintendent of public printing is merely one member, awards an annual contract to the lowest and best bidder. Under this law the impossibility of favoritism to any particular individual or firm is obvious.

"Charges of excessive measurements of composition in favor of the State Printing Company have already been shown baseless. Any investigation of the office of the superintendent of public printing, touching any phase of the work which has saved the state on an average of about $30,000 annually, will be welcomed by this office.

"It is quite well known that efforts to discredit the state printer and the superintendent of public printing proceed from a small group in an organization headed by the acknowledged political representative of an Atlanta business corporation not well situated financially.

No Notice Given.
"No notice whatever was given either the state printer or the superintendent of public printing of the meeting at which those unjust and absurd charges were made. The man who wrote and colored the story of this meeting must have been cognizant of this fact.

There is not now, nor has there been, any connection or financial interest between any member of the force of the office of superintendent of public printing and any printing house here or elsewhere, and the man who made this charge knew that it is untrue.

"The whole truth of the matter is that a certain element in Atlanta is seeking to force this department to favor particular shops in the awarding of the state printing. I have never felt there was any reason to discriminate between establishments, when the printing is paid for by the taxpayers of the entire state, and a small percentage of whom are affiliated or even sympathetic to organizations.

"Any investigation of this department is welcomed at any time. I have no doubt about the outcome. Those who deal with this department regularly—and they include the most reliable printers in Atlanta—know with what fairness the business is awarded. These complaints and

Georgia Wins Reserve Membership Cup

For the first time in the history of its organization the Georgia Reserve Officers' Association this year was awarded a silver cup for showing the greatest increase in membership among the southern states. The cup was presented Thursday afternoon at Fort McPherson at a brilliant military ceremony, featured by a full field review of reserve officers. Colonel George Blossom, president of the Georgia association, is shown above receiving the cup from Major B. A. Motter, of Washington, representative of the Reserve Officers' Association of the United States, while Brigadier General George H. Estes, commandant at Fort McPherson, looks on with approval.

charges, as stated above, always come from the same source, i. e., the element which wants the state's business not by fair and open bidding at honest prices in competition with other printers, but by brow-beating and political pressure. We are sure the people of this state will not agree with such tactics. At any rate, we are letting the business according to our conception of the law, and all printers, either union or non-union, are free to bid on it. That's the only way they are going to get any of it."

PORTO RICAN KILLED IN HARLEM DISORDER

NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP)—Heavily armed police details patrolled Harlem today as an aftermath of a riot last night between Porto Ricans and Filipinos, in which one was killed and three others either shot or stabbed.

Feeling between the fighting factions reached its climax at Lenox avenue and 113th street, where several hundred men milled about.

One Filipino, blamed by the crowd for wielding a knife, was chased several blocks. He sought refuge in a cigar store and telephoned police. The crowd wrecked both the cigar store and an adjoining hat store in trying to get him out.

Charles Corello, a Porto Rican, who received a gunshot wound, collapsed in the street and died. More than 200 policemen, armed with clubs, tear gas and riot guns, broke through the crowd, rescued the Filipino in the telephone booth and restored order. In the general excitement the Filipino escaped.

The injured man was removed to hospitals. The injured man was removed to hospitals. The injured man was removed to hospitals.

More Rain Today,
Von Herrmann Says

Rainfall deficiency for month, 90 inches. Rainfall deficiency for year, 13.90 inches. Temperature Thursday, 83 degrees. Temperature one year ago, 72 degrees.

Conditions are still favorable for local thundershowers in Atlanta this afternoon, it was stated Thursday by C. F. von Herrmann, meteorologist, in announcing that the rain of Tuesday and Wednesday has brought the deficiency for the month below an inch and for the first time in many months has put the precipitation on the heavy end of the scales against the year's deficiency.

Thursday started off at 71 degrees and reached 83 degrees by mid-afternoon. The same moderate temperatures will prevail today and the chances for more rain are exceedingly good due to a weather disturbance near the mouth of the Mississippi river, seemingly spreading in this direction, said von Herrmann. A total of 6.84 inches rain fell in Mobile, he stated.

The deficiency for the month here had reached 1.86 inches by the first of the week but the rains of Tuesday and Wednesday cut it down until it was but .30 Thursday. A total of .57 inches fell on Wednesday afternoon alone. The yearly deficiency dropped to 13.30, which was less than the precipitation for the year which Thursday totaled 14.90. The total rainfall for the month has been 1.44 inches. The showers are well distributed over the month, said von Herrmann, and over the entire cotton belt, causing a real break in the drought.

Deposed Emperor Of China Adopts
Opera as Hobby

TIENSIN, China, July 12.—(AP)—Chinese opera singing is the latest hobby of China's deposed emperor. The "Son of Heaven" has engaged a voice teacher from Peking, purchased Chinese musical instruments and stage trappings, and is practicing the strange oriental scale. The former occupant of the dragon throne has no heirs.

Mr. P. Yi, as he prefers to be called, lives modestly with his two wives in a $50-a-month house in the foreign section of Tientsin. A few of his monarchical followers still cling to him, but his limited income and democratic leaning have caused him to drop most of the ceremony and regalia which surrounded him in old Peking.

When he was two years old Hsuan Tien was placed on the throne and remained there three years. Then came the revolution of 1911. In 1917, when Hsuan Tien was 11, he again was elevated to the throne to be emperor for seven days, his restoration upset by the so-called "Christian general," Feng Yu-hsiang.

OF LIQUOR SEIZED

MIAMI, Fla., July 16.—(AP)—Customs patrol men here said today they had seized 1,800 quarts of assorted liquor and a 32-foot speedboat and arrested two men at Sand Key after an all-night vigil.

The men, who gave their names as J. S. Wilson and E. Ferguson, were held in Dade county jail pending a hearing before United States Commissioner G. R. Short.

The customs officers said they saw the speedboat put out to sea last night and waited off Sand Key throughout the night for its return. The craft, they said, reappeared early today.

HOOVER INVITED TO SPEAK HERE

President Is Considering Request To Address Conference of Methodists.

President Hoover has taken under consideration an invitation to deliver an address before the ecumenical conference of the Methodist church, to be held in Atlanta in October, if the president accepts he will speak before the worldwide gathering of Methodists on Sunday, October 25.

The invitation was extended to the chief executive by Bishop William E. McDowell through United States Senator Watson, of Indiana, and although it was not known whether the request originated in Atlanta, local Methodist clergy Thursday admitted there had been considerable talk about having Mr. Hoover attend the conference, which will bring approximately 650 Methodist delegates from all parts of the world to Atlanta.

The Rev. Dr. J. E. Ellis, pastor of Wesley Memorial church, said that it was probable the invitation had been originally extended through Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, of Birmingham, chairman of the committee on program for this diocese, although Bishop McDowell is chairman of the denominational committee on invitations and programs.

The ecumenical is the only worldwide conference held by Methodists and convenes approximately every 10 years. It has been held only once before in the United States, and only twice before on the western hemisphere.

COMMUNISTS GIRL FOR POLICE BATTLE

Rioters Entrench Selves
in Streets After Smashing
All Lights.

GEISENKIRCHEN, Germany, July 17.—(Friday.)—(AP)—Police and communist rioters were entrenched against each other here in the early hours of this morning, waiting for daylight, after a night of rioting in which streets were torn up, windows smashed, stores plundered, volleys fired and barricades thrown up.

The outbreak began shortly before midnight, after smoldering all day. Police heads called out all their men, and sent calls to nearby towns for help.

Communists smashed all lights in the Olga Bismarck, main thoroughfare, and tore up pavements behind which they entrenched themselves. Police finally threw a cordon around the rioters and decided to wait daylight.

The town was practically in darkness, and it was impossible to ascertain the extent of the casualties. The rioters began under cover of darkness after they had smashed all street lights.

The communists met police with volleys of bullets, bricks and bottles.

The communists seized control of three streets in the laborers' section and held police at bay. Police planned to renew their attack at dawn.

POLICE QUELL RIOT
IN COBLENZ STREETS

COBLENZ, Germany, July 17.—(Friday.)—(AP)—A mob of communists who smashed street lights here early this morning, tore up pavements and attempted to erect barricades in the Gasterstrasse, was put down by police.

A number of shots were fired, but no police were wounded. Whether there were casualties among the rioters had not been determined.

UNEMPLOYED ATTACK
DUSSELDORF OFFICES

DUSSELDORF, Germany, July 17.—(Friday.)—(AP)—Police were pelted with stones here late last night when they attempted to put down an unemployed demonstration. The officers opened fire with their pistols and quickly gained the upper hand. No casualties were reported.

GRASSHOPPER INVASION
BRINGS CALL FOR LOANS

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(AP)—The agriculture department will investigate the need for reopening drought loans in South Dakota, where a grasshopper invasion has caused serious damage.

George L. Hoffman, director of the seed loan office, wrote Representative Williamson, South Dakota, today that he would order a survey through the state director of extension work to determine how many farmers required funds with which to feed live stock.

The grasshoppers are reported to have destroyed large fields of small grains.

EDWARDS WITHDRAWS
DIVORCE COUNTER SUIT

NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP)—William H. "Big Bill" Edwards, one-time college football player and former collector of internal revenue in New York, will withdraw his counter suit for divorce from Mrs. Edwards, his attorney, Walter W. Westall, announced today.

Mr. Westall made the statement after Thomas Weststrom, New York salesman, was indicted today for perjury. An affidavit by Weststrom, in which he told of alleged misconduct with Mrs. Edwards, formed the basis for Edwards' suit. Weststrom later confessed the statement untrue, authorities said.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Edwards testified before the grand jury, which indicted Weststrom.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

WITHOUT CALOMEL
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They can't move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Repeat a substitute. ©1931, Carter Medicine Company.

he was held by the officers and laity of the church.

Mr. Woodward's benevolences did not stop with donations to churches in which he served so faithfully. He made large contributions to all forms of charity, chief among which were the Community Chest and the Tuberculosis Association, being one of the leading donors in the latter organization's campaign for a home on Forrest avenue.

He was a member of the Capital City and Piedmont Driving Clubs, and was an enthusiastic golfer.

It was Mr. Woodward's custom to spend the summer months in his old Connecticut home, which he rebuilt a few years ago. His wife and daughter usually resided here with him at the Georgian Terrace hotel during the winter months, spending the summer in their New England residence. Mr. Woodward had only recently gone north on a vacation, the chief purpose of which, he informed friends, was to recuperate from a recent operation for appendicitis. It was the result of this attack, physicians believed, that caused his death.

Mr. Woodward's death came as a shock and cause of sorrow to hundreds of friends in Atlanta, and many expressions of sympathy have been sent to his widow and daughter.

PARIS COMPLICATES GERMAN PROBLEM

plan." It was understood this accords with the views of Secretary Stimson and Mr. Henderson, who went over it during the two hours of this morning's meeting.

The "French commission," as Premier Laval called the plan, is considered to be a move to develop the Paris conference into a concrete one of the greatest importance. There was evident reluctance on the part of Premier Laval tonight to discuss the question of whether France will consent to go to London for another conference of statesmen on Monday, to which the powers were invited by the British government last night.

The premier also made it clear that the French experts are not leaving for London.

One phrase in the communiqué which the French premier issued tonight aroused intense interest. The phrase was "measures of political appeasement." This was reported to refer to a formula which was evolved by the premier at the cabinet meeting in order to bring together the opinions of the members.

It was understood that at the morning session political questions were ruled out whenever they came up. Surprise was expressed in some quarters, therefore, to find in the communiqué a phrase which might be interpreted to mean that all the political questions between France and Germany would be brought into the financial discussions.

Control Seen.

Up to the time the communiqué was issued, interest in the "French plan" centered around the question of the financial guarantees, which were reported after the morning meeting to involve some kind of control over Germany's finances.

What this control would be was expected to come up for further discussion at other meetings of the "big three" tomorrow. It was evident that there was a desire not to impose a form of supervision which it would be impossible politically for Chancellor Brüning to accept.

At the end of this morning's meeting it was reported the Paris conference would confine itself to questions of principle, and that the meeting would then adjourn to London next week, in answer to the British government's invitation, where details of the Hoover plan as worked out by experts would be gone over.

The result of the London conference, following the discussions by interested governments, of the experts' suggestions and the principles of the Paris meeting, was expected to be a practical plan for credits and financial restoration for Germany.

Premier Laval left no doubt in the minds of newspapermen who talked to him tonight, however, that France has decided to oppose the London meeting, at least until the financial and political conversations with the German statesmen in Paris have reached concrete results.

TANGLE FORCES LEADERS TO LEAVE DURING CRISIS

BY WAVE WHEELER.

BERLIN, July 16.—(AP)—Extraordinary diplomatic developments in Paris and London today snarled the week-end program of Chancellor Brüning and Foreign Minister Curtius, making it necessary for them to leave Germany during the height of the financial crisis.

Telephone lines linking Berlin, London and Paris buzzed incessantly all day, with the upshot that the visit of Prime Minister MacDonald and Foreign Secretary Henderson to the German capital was called off.

Herr Brüning and Dr. Curtius instead ordered their grips packed for Paris.

Meanwhile Germany was cheered by one factor and depressed by another. Arrangements to meet tomorrow's pay rolls were completed and the nation's banks, closed two days by President von Hindenburg's decree, were reopened. But they turned away large crowds of sullen depositors, for they were not permitted to pay out funds held in savings accounts.

Police chiefs throughout the nation took measures to prevent a repetition of communist riots.

Newspapers, meanwhile, voiced strong approval of the new international move for a Franco-German understanding and for united relief of Germany, but they warned, "make haste."

Executives of the big industrial and shipping concerns took their own emergency measures made necessary by the abnormal situation.

Among these was the Ford Motor Company of Cologne, which announced suspension of production "for a few days" but at the same time denied any intention of wholesale dismissal of employees.

On the other hand, the German Lufthansa, facing complete paralysis of air passenger traffic, announced that all agents had been instructed to accept checks on German banks in payment of fares and freight charges. Many retail firms adopted similar measures, which were the more noteworthy in view of the fact that bank checks never have been widely accepted by merchants here.

The fact that payrolls were met was considered of the greatest importance.

In Breslau depositors stormed the municipal savings bank and became so menacing that a large force of police was called out.

Last night outbreaks occurred in Leipzig, Gelsenkirchen, Inshwerte, Munich, Hamburg, Altona, Dresden and Karlsruhe. In each case the authorities succeeded in quelling the disorders.

Barring last minute alterations of their travel plans, Herr Brüning and Foreign Minister Curtius, today for foreign office aides, will entrain for Paris Friday night, arriving Saturday afternoon.

After their week-end talks with Premier Laval and Foreign Minister

Briand, it is understood they will go to London early Monday for the conference of ministers.

LONDON SPEEDS PLANS FOR MONDAY CONFERENCE

BY ALVIN HALLMAN.

LONDON, July 16.—(AP)—Arrangements moved forward rapidly tonight for the extraordinary conference Monday evening at London of the ministers of Great Britain, France, the United States, Germany, Belgium, Italy and Japan. At the conference a formula will be sought by which central Europe may be eased of its economic travail.

Meanwhile directors of the Bank of England considered the money market strong enough, despite its stringencies, for the bank rate to remain at 2 1/2 per cent.

The pound sterling improved on the exchanges, and a better tone prevailed in the stock market.

Plans for the Monday conference, the greatest gathering of statesmen of the great powers since the post-war treaty days, forced an eleventh hour abandonment of the much-advertised good-will visit of Prime Minister MacDonald and Foreign Secretary Henderson to Berlin.

Instead, Chancellor Brüning and Foreign Minister Curtius, of Germany are coming to London, stopping on way at Paris for conferences with Premier Laval and Foreign Minister Briand. Foreign Secretary Henderson, now in Paris, will return to London instead of continuing to Berlin.

Three from U. S.

The United States is expected to be represented by Secretary of State Stimson, who is in Paris; Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, now on the Riviera, and Hugh Gibson, American ambassador to Belgium, who arrived from Brussels last night to participate in the meeting of the Young plan experts, which convenes tomorrow.

Mr. McDonald, Mr. Henderson and

Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, will be the British representatives. Mr. MacDonald probably will preside.

Foreign Minister Hymans and Premier Renkin will represent Belgium, and the French participants are expected to be Premier Laval, M. Briand and Finance Minister Flamin.

Foreign Minister Dino Grandi, it is believed here, will speak for Italy. Semi-officially, it was stated that the conference would deal principally with economic matters and that it was made necessary by the growing seriousness of the German crisis.

Emphasis would be placed, it was said, on measures to prevent difficulties similar to those of Germany from spreading over the rest of Europe.

Political Phases.

In authoritative quarters it also was learned that the political phases of the crisis would be discussed. There was widespread expectation that Germany might come prepared to make certain political concessions in order to get credit to stabilize her economic position.

Final decisions about the conference were made last night and early this morning. As illustrative of the urgency of the situation, it was pointed out that not until nearly dawn today did the government conclude it would be necessary to give up the projected MacDonald-Henderson visit to Berlin.

Invitations to the nations which will participate in the conference were issued at 1 a. m. today. By tonight Japan was the only one to accept formally, but other acceptances were expected immediately.

Until late today it was uncertain whether the experts, called to reconcile the Hoover proposal with the Young plan, would meet tomorrow as scheduled. It finally was decided, however, that they would convene in the morning and discuss preliminary matters, and would hold themselves in readiness to act when the ministers get together.

U. S. TO BE FULL MEMBER OF LONDON CONFERENCE

BY C. E. WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(AP)—The United States will have full-fledged membership in the conference of European powers which meets Monday in London to discuss the ills of central Europe.

Both Secretary Stimson of the state department and Secretary Mellon of the treasury are expected to attend, not as "unofficial observers," but empowered with a wide discretion as to the extent of their participation.

President Hoover today announced his plans for having the two cabinet officers at the conference. Stimson, he said, will attend, and Mellon has been asked to present "if it is consistent with his plans." The former is now in Paris and the latter is resting in southern France.

Tonight there were indications Mr. Hoover was giving them no specific instructions. It is assumed by officials here that some political questions, as well as those dealing with economics will come before the meeting. It was noted that in today's statements from the White House, the word economic was not used in describing the purpose of the conference and it was emphasized that the problems rising from the present situation in central Europe would be considered.

Not Disclosed.

What part Stimson and Mellon would take in discussions of political questions, if they should arise, was undisclosed. Acting Secretary Clegg of the state department had said any entanglement in European politics would be carefully avoided.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, the republican leader and one of the outstanding opponents of American participation in the League of Nations or in the World Court, said he understood the conference would be limited entirely to financial problems.

"It is my understanding," he said, "that only financial problems are to come up at the meeting. I have no idea that our representatives will be drawn into any discussions relating to the political problems of Europe. I think any involvement in European political affairs would be a mistake."

While the conference will be informal in its general aspects, Mellon and Stimson are to participate on an equal basis with the representatives of other powers, Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Belgium and Japan.

Thus the American government will have a direct and active part instead of a seat on the sidelines for an "observer"—a figure which appeared in American diplomacy soon after the World War and has been present to see and report at many similar European gatherings in the past.

For Advice.

In a statement late today, President Hoover said:

"As has already been announced, Secretary Stimson will attend the conference in London which has been called by the British government for Monday to consider the present emergency problems in central Europe. I have asked Secretary Mellon, if consistent with his plans, also to attend in order that we may have the benefit of his advice as well.

"It is our understanding that the conference is limited entirely to questions of the present emergency."

The conference will meet shortly after an international committee of experts gathers at London to adjust unsettled details of a President Hoover's plan for a one-year moratorium on reparations and war debt payments.

This meeting will begin tomorrow. Hugh S. Gibson, American ambassador to Belgium, will represent the United States.

Secretary Stimson is making a tour arranged at the request of President Hoover for series of discussions with European statesmen on current problems.

Secretary Mellon, whose participation in the London deliberations had not been expected, retired to the south of France for a vacation after concluding the arduous and delicate negotiations that brought France and America into general accord on the moratorium plan.

VISITORS DIVIDE HONORS WITH BRIDES AND BRIDES-ELECT

Maids and Matrons Share Social Spotlight Today

Today's calendar of events, planned by members of fashionable society, divides honors between a group of attractive visitors and a bevy of recent brides and brides-elect. Young matrons rank high in the list of entertaining in the presence of Mrs. J. C. Baldwin at her home on Argonne drive, Mrs. Douglas Goff, of Charlotte, N. C., who is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Hugh Couch, at her home in College Park; Mrs. R. P. Brittain and her daughter, Miss Erna Brittain, of Detroit, Mich., who are visiting Mrs. Sam Johnson at her West Peachtree street home. Affairs of the younger, unmarried contingent revolve around a group of young visiting belles, including Misses Betty and Gerda Sylvan, of Columbia, S. C., who are the popular guests of Misses Charlotte and Marion Collier on Twenty-sixth street; Miss Moselle Bowen, of Augusta, who is receiving much attention during her visit to Miss Virginia Merry; Miss Margaret Lyman, of Birmingham, Ala., the feteed guest of Miss Ellen Flemming; Miss Nell Burton, of Richmond, Va., who is visiting Miss Helen Vaughn, and Miss Florence Whisker, of Louisville, Ky., who is visiting Miss Clifford Hardisty.

Mrs. William James Reilly is an interesting and charming bride of recent date, her marriage having taken place last Tuesday. Miss Mary Frances Barnhart entertains at luncheon today at the Biltmore hotel, honoring Mrs. Reilly, the former Miss Julia Memminger. Two parties are planned today in compliment to Miss Jeannette Harper, whose marriage to John Jordan Poole will be a brilliant event of next Tuesday evening. Mrs. Robert Stanbridge entertains at bridge and a bridal shower at her home on Oxford road, and this evening Edwin Pearce will be host at dinner, honoring Miss Harper and her fiancée, Miss Katherine Babb, whose marriage to Arch Attridge is set for next Monday, is another bride-elect who forms the inspiration for continual entertaining among her host of friends. Mrs. Carl Babb gives a tresseau-tea, honoring her daughter at her home on Highland avenue this afternoon.

Civic Club Tea.

Among those to be present are Miss Helen Traber and Ruth Wills in selections on Hawaiian guitars; O. B. Logan, who will entertain with jokes; Mrs. Clyde Aven, reader; Sunshine Four quartet, composed of J. H. Head, J. G. Rosser, J. Virgil Glenn and Robert H. Castleberry; Thomas Moore and John Peterson, accompanied by Mrs. Thomas Moore at the piano; James and John Nease, piano and cello.

Fortnightly Dinner - Dance Given on Capital City Roof

The inviting coolness of the Capital City roof proved tempting to the members of the club last evening when congenial groups attended the fortnightly dinner-dance. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Acklin entertained at their table, and covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Sutherland, Miss Gloria Mortenson, Miss Mildred Spruick, Oscar Miller and Miss Bergstrom.

Miss Smith Weds J. Arthur Cromwell

Mr. and Mrs. James Whitfield Smith announce the marriage of their daughter, Caroline Edgeworth, to J. Arthur Cromwell, of Washington, D. C., on June 24. Mr. and Mrs. Smith entertained at an elaborate reception Tuesday evening, preceding the wedding at their home on West Peachtree street. The floral decorations were those of gladioli.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cromwell motored to Signal Mountain, Tenn., and later to Maryland, where they will spend the summer. Mrs. Cromwell was born and reared in Gainesville, Ga., and was educated at Brenau College. She is a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority and possesses a charming personality which endears her to a host of friends. Mr. Cromwell is a prominent young businessman, and is connected with one of the largest banks in Washington, District of Columbia.

Brookhaven Club.

Among those lunching yesterday at Brookhaven were Mesdames M. F. Carroll, W. L. Southwell, Foster Hume, Stanton Hale, G. M. Rowbotham, Calhoun McDougal, Virginia Ward, Gordon Burnett, J. P. Burton, R. C. Treseder and Lowry Arnold. Dining at the club last evening were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Michael, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Owen, of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Havens, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Mangum, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cooney, and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Nunnally.

maintained in honor of their guest, Mrs. W. C. Hudman, of West Point, Ga., and invited to meet her were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spradlin, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harris Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George McCarty, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rosser, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pugh, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Burnett and their guests, Mrs. E. F. Folshey, of Vicksburg, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Cone and K. B. Hancock.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Kline were hosts at a party for eight given in honor of their guest, Miss Alice May McLaughlin, of New York. Mrs. Carl Palmer, of Pasadena, Cal., who is visiting her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Porter, was central figure in the party in which covers were laid for Mrs. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Porter, Dr. and Mrs. Earl Quillian, Mr. and Mrs. Evans Joseph and Herbert Tompkins. Roy Petty, Miss Ruth Rowbotham, Miss Mary Candler and Dr. William Booth formed a congenial party.

THE GUMPS—??????

Flower of Thorns

By Marie Conway Oemler

INSTALLMENT VI.

Her distressed brown eyes had fallen, idly enough, on the deserted cabin near the gates, and stayed there. It was the average negro cabin, but in better repair than most, for the colonel had made Moses keep the roof sound and the whole place intact. She was thoroughly familiar with its two homely rooms, its huge fireplace. She had often visited the place when Moses and his wife lived there. The front windows opened on the road—the busy road with hundreds of cars rushing by day and night.

Sally started. Her brown eyes widened and sparkled. Grandpapa was dead, and grandmamma, that helpless paralytic, would never know, never understand. The idea that had flashed across the girl's mind was so simple, so humble that at the moment it came to her she was almost tempted to laugh. But as she stood there thinking and thinking and thinking about it, the more she thought the more feasible the idea grew. The green paint that had been on the window shutters was still fairly colorful. While Sally stood there pondering, sizing up the possibilities of the place, cars whizzed by.

At that moment a truck, expertly driven by a burly young man, came rapidly down the road toward her, the evening light glinting on his bright and wavy mop of unruly hair which formed, as it were, a golden helmet for his shapely head. His friendly eyes were astonishingly, unbelievably blue, steady, merry and bold. Above the truck's rattling cargo of empty milk cans she heard him singing in a sweet, strong baritone.

The sound of his singing voice made her turn and look up, and he turned his head suddenly and looked down at their eyes met. He slowed the truck. "Miss Rutherford, isn't it?" asked the truck driver, respectfully. She bowed slightly. She didn't know who he was, but she had a vague sense of familiarity of face. "You are one of the boys around here, aren't you?" she asked in her clear voice. "You are?" he asked, smiling charmingly at her. "I've been away a long time myself. Now I'm working for the Winstead Dairies."

He had driven to Charleston in one of his own cars and was returning when, on the outskirts of the city, he met one of his milk trucks. The truck driver was suffering excruciatingly from a sudden toothache, and Sam, always considerate of his workers, had immediately exchanged cars, ordering the driver to return to the city for the administrations of a dentist while he himself drove the truck full of empty milk cans back to Winstead. And so he came whizzing down the home road with his empty cans, singing as he came, and at peace with himself and all his plans. And at the gate of Oakleigh stood Sally Rutherford.

And the Winstead Dairies, and made a vague gesture. Quite as though the Winstead Dairies were, say, in Kamchatka.

"Don't you get your milk from us? If not, why not? Ours is the best milk in this part of the state—and right next door to you."

"Moses attends to that, and wherever he gets our milk from, I suppose he is satisfied with it."

A thought struck her. If she could carry out her plans she would need much more milk. She would ask this young man who worked at the Winstead Dairies about it.

"By the way, Mr. — ah —"

"Forman," said he, after a moment's pause.

"Mr. Forman, if one should buy milk in greater quantities, would not a reduction be made in price?"

"Naturally," said he. "Are you thinking of ordering milk from us in quantity? We are butter and egg men too." He reminded her, gravely.

"I am not quite sure yet. I shall know in a short time," reflected Sally.

"I tell you what to do, Miss Rutherford. As soon as you find out just what you want, you send word to me. Ask for the foreman. I can promise you a very fair price—that is, you'll get the lowest wholesale price on your orders. I'll oversee the deliveries myself."

"That is very kind of you, Mr. Forman."

"Same thing you said before: Forman. Fits my job, somehow, doesn't it? He reminds me in a name? For instance, that which we call a milk can, by any other name would rattle just as loudly."

"Aren't you misquoting Shakespeare?" said she, opening her eyes wider.

"W. S. is so easy to misquote," complained the truck driver. "The fact is, somebody gave me the story about the Montagues and the Capulets and I liked it so much that I used to carry it around in my pocket and read it whenever I had time. Didn't you like the story, too?"

"Romeo and Juliet? Oh, yes," said Sally, smiling. "Most people do, I believe."

Even young truck drivers, she added to herself. Perhaps this one had been sent away to school? Some sort of college, maybe?

His appearance was far from ordinary. He wore his well-cut clothes with an air-kaki blouse, riding breeches, leather puttees. The hand on the steering wheel was brown as a berry, but slim, strong, shapely, and she noted some sort of class ring on the ring finger. And his voice was pleasing.

"You went away to college, didn't you, Mr. Forman?" she asked.

"O yes, I was away at school for quite awhile," he admitted modestly.

"Where did you go?"

"Well, I went to a place where they teach you all about agriculture, and crops, and soil, and the proper care of cattle, and doctoring sick mules and that sort of thing. Just what I wanted."

"I see, an agricultural school, wasn't it? Where was it located?"

"Up in the mountains," he said truthfully, remembering V. P. I. "I see," she said, politely. "Well, maybe I shall need a larger supply of milk, Mr. Forman, but if I do I'll let you know. Good evening."

"Mountain men are apt to speak to all men—and women—as to equals," she reflected. Not that this handsome boy's manner was in the least familiar, but it certainly lacked all sense of their relative positions. This didn't displease her, exactly, but it made her "Good evening" more decided.

"Good evening, miss. I certainly hope I can be of service to you."

"Perhaps you may if I should require more milk," said Sally.

"Well, I hope you'll need plenty more and order it all from us, which would be the best thing you could do," he said casually. He looked at her oddly for a moment, then made a courteous gesture of farewell and went whizzing down the road toward Winstead, disappearing in a cloud of dust.

Seven Young Atlanta Stars Enter National Net Tourney at Culver

STRIBLING PLANS RING COMEBACK THIS FALL

BREAK of the DAY

By Ralph McGill

Tennis, driven by the impetuosity and intensity of youth, continues to go forward in Atlanta.

Bryan Grant, clay courts champion in 1930, is in Milwaukee. He is there to play in a tournament and to take lessons from the only professional available to this section.

Mercer Beasley, who coaches at New Orleans, Pasadena and Milwaukee, is diagnosing Grant's game. It was a bit off this season. Grant is preparing for the eastern lawn tournaments. The fall will find him once more in the national tournament competition at Forest Hills.

Billy Reese, another Atlantan, will leave within the next 10 days for Rye, N. Y., to join Grant. He, too, will remain through the national in September.

Seven Atlanta juniors will play in the city tournament next week to prepare for participation in the national junior tennis tournaments.

Atlanta's golfers have taken hundreds of lessons from first-class teachers. When their game goes away there is a professional at hand to give it a going over.

The tennis players must teach themselves or travel far to engage the services of a professional. The Georgia state tournament must go begging for an invitation from some club or city.

Tennis has struggled along with no slaps on the back. And yet Atlanta has had the national clay courts champion and the co-holder of the national boys' doubles championship in Bryan Grant and George Boynton.

Jack Mooney, an indefatigable worker for the game in Atlanta, has accomplished much good. It is more than passing strange, however, that Atlanta has neglected thus far to engage a tennis professional. The boys, goodness knows, deserve one.

The coast and the east coach their boys from infancy on through manhood in the gentle art of socking a tennis ball. And yet Atlanta boys manage to bring in a few national titles. A tennis pro might make Atlanta a center for Davis cup talent. The talent is here.

A CHAMPIONSHIP CLUB.

There are so many factors which go to make up a successful baseball team that many important ones are lost sight of in the shuffle for position.

The Birmingham Barons, well out in front in the Southern association race, will do for an example.

It is generally accepted that the Barons are leading because they happen to have good pitching. Pitching is about 75 per cent of the game and no team ever won without at least two good pitchers.

Birmingham's hitting has been good. But it is a peculiar type of hitting. It is that vitally necessary sort that comes in the pinches with men in scoring positions. There is a fine balance between the pitching and the hitting. The club isn't top-heavy anywhere. It is a good fielding club. And fairly smart.

Milton Stock, manager of the Mobile club, brought out an interesting feature that isn't usually stressed in diagnosing a winning team.

"You will notice," said Stock, "that there are few double plays made by the teams playing Birmingham. They haven't any really slow men on their team outside the catching staff."

When they get men on it is next to impossible to complete a double play. This gives them that extra out and the next man may hit the runner in.

All of which shows that there are many factors which must click to produce a winning baseball team. Lack of any one would mean a miss. Which may explain our Crackers.

COUSIN DAVE DANFORTH.

And so Cousin Dave Danforth is coming back to Dixie. Joe Engel, the drama director of the Chattanooga baseball company, reached up into Buffalo to bring back the veteran who was all washed up in 1929 when New Orleans let him go.

Old Doctor Danforth was a pitching puzzle. And no doubt still is. He was a winner with Buffalo. They always said that Cousin Dave doctored that baseball. They said that he had enough power in his thumb to raise the cover. They said that he had such powerful nails that he could roughen the ball. They said all sorts of things. But no one ever found out what he did. They convicted him on suspicion.

Once Wilbur Good, who had the Crackers in 1928, thought he had captured the Doctor. He found that five baseballs were scuffed in exactly the same fashion. The Crackers that day had got two weak hits. Cousin Dave said they hit the wall. John D. Martin said there was no evidence.

He'll add something to the league. If he's right he'll make plenty of copy. Because whatever he does does the boys considerably—when he can do it. And in addition he's a great fellow.

ATLANTA STARS ENTER CULVER TENNIS TOURNEY

Bryan Grant, Reese Invade East for Men's Tourneys.

By Roy White.

Seven Atlanta tennis stars have entered the national junior and boys' championships at Culver, Ind., and will leave the city during the latter part of next week to get in a week of play in the western tourney at Delafield, Wis., before participating in the national events.

George Boynton, co-holder of the national boys' doubles title, has graduated into the junior class and will head the list. Other entries include Julian Carr, Jack Morris, Boris Boulware, Ross Cheshire, Remus Harris and Winship Nunnally. Several others are likely to enter before the last closes.

In addition to the juniors, Bryan Grant, who won the national clay court singles last year and Billy Reese, one of the city's most promising youngsters, will represent Atlanta in fast company on eastern courts. Grant is playing now at Milwaukee, Wis., and Reese will leave for the east immediately after the city tourney next week.

PROMISING CROP.

It will be the first time in national tennis competition that the city has entered more than four or five players and the present crop is more promising than ever before.

They all have had several years' of real competition and have played in several tournaments this summer, including the Cotton States invitation and the Southern in Birmingham two weeks ago.

The youngsters will participate in the city tourney next week on the Tech courts and leave immediately after that event has been completed.

TWO TOURNEYS.

The Atlantans were undecided Thursday whether or not they will compete in the Tennessee state at Memphis or the Delaware tourney at Delafield, Wis. Both tournaments will be held the same week and it largely depends on the calibre of players, for the locals want the hardest competition possible in preparation for the national event.

Boynton, Carr, Cheshire and Nunnally are the most improved players in recent years. They have faced the best possible competition in the state and age and are seeking higher laurels within the next few weeks. The tourney has been unusually good in recent years and they are certain to be heard from in faster company.

Reese is a much improved player and will compete only in the men's events this year. He has competed in both the men's and junior events for several years but has graduated from the juniors.

City Net Meet Begins Tomorrow.

With more than 50 entries recorded and others expected, Atlanta's tennis players will put the finishing touches to their practice this afternoon on the eve of the annual city tourney, beginning Saturday at 3 o'clock on the Georgia Tech courts on Techwood drive.

The men's singles will be the first on the program, with the doubles slated to be played during the latter part of the afternoon.

Junior, boys' and women's events will start Monday morning at 9 o'clock and continue through the remainder of the week, as the second round of men's play gets under way. Entries will be received through Saturday at noon by Jack Lee, secretary at Spalding on North Broad street. Late entries in the women's and junior events will be received Monday morning at the courts.

Pairings for the tourney will not be made public beforehand, but will be posted Saturday at noon at the courts.

Special interest is being shown in the women and junior events, in which record entries are expected. Competition in those events will be keener than ever before.

Jack Mooney will be in charge of the tournament and will enter only the doubles play.

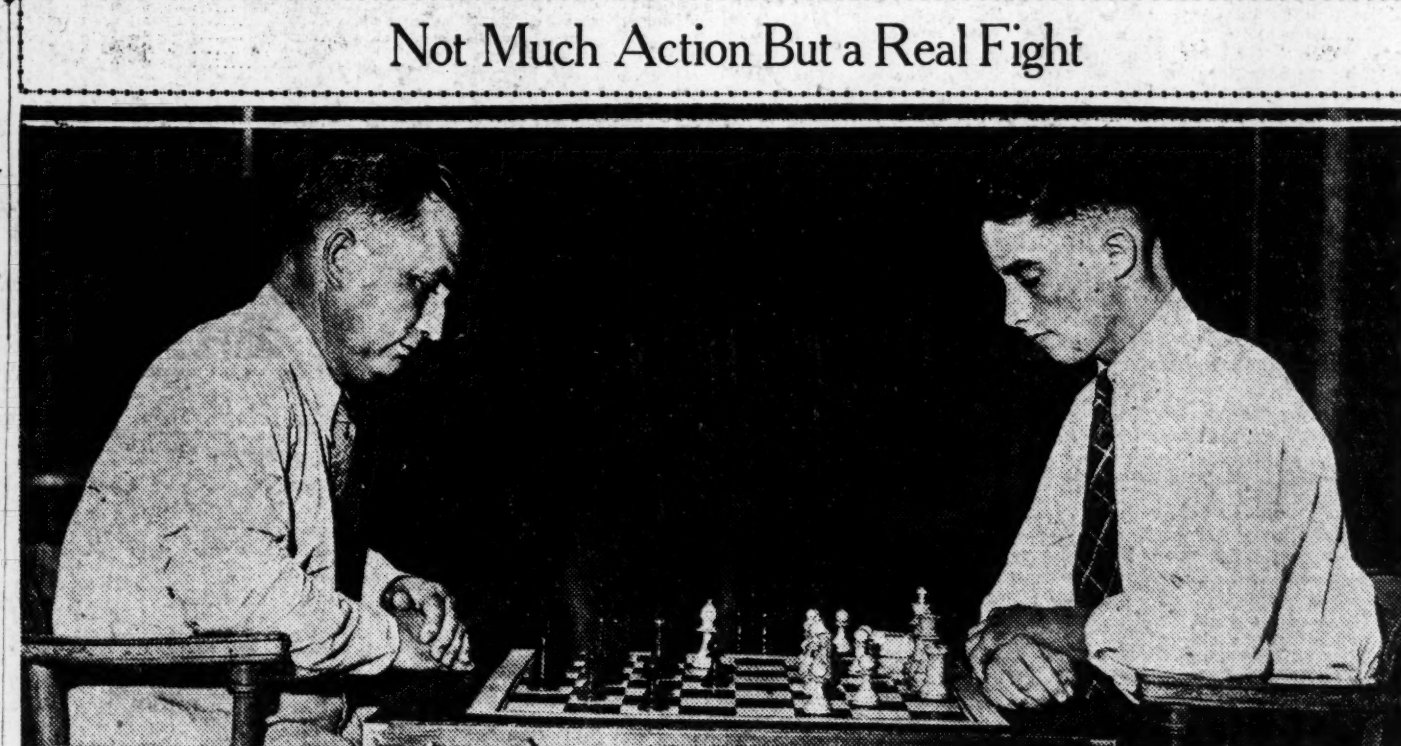

CHESS MATCH.

AMSTERDAM, Holland, July 16.—The third game of the chess match between Jose R. Capablanca, of Havana, and Dr. Max Euwe, of Amsterdam, today was won by Capablanca in 31 moves. Capablanca played white in a queen's pawn opening. The score to date: Capablanca, 1; Dr. Euwe, 0; drawn, 2. The fourth game will be played at The Hague Saturday.

Glutton for Golf Claims Record

MOBILE, Ala., July 16.—(AP) Doc Graham, down to dusk golfer, claims the national endurance record.

Playing over the Oak Hills course here recently he shot 255 holes of golf in one day, his card showing 666 strokes required. Graham began playing at 2:45 a. m. and continued the trek until 11 minutes short of midnight. Of the 255-hole total, 133 were in par, 41 were birdies and three were eagles.

Not Much Action But a Real Fight

Nestor Hernandez, of Tampa, Fla., and his son, Mario Hernandez (shown above), are making a great showing in the southeastern chess tournament here. The younger Hernandez has won the championship in class C. He is just 16 years old, but he is thoroughly trained in the strategy of the game, and has defeated many older players with ease. His father, who is now leading in class A, has five southeastern chess titles already under his belt. The meet is being held at the Biltmore hotel. Hundreds of Atlanta chess enthusiasts are either taking part in or following with interest the results.

TAMPAN HOLDS LEAD IN CHESS

Young Boy Wins Class B Title in Meet Here.

By Max Hall.

With one more day remaining in the southeastern chess tournament being played at the Biltmore hotel, the Hernandez family from Tampa and Ernest Hadaritz, a 15-year-old boy from Macon, continue to lead the field.

Nestor Hernandez, in Class A, now has eight victories and no defeats. All matches in Class C were completed yesterday. He is closely followed by W. N. Woodbury, of Birmingham, Ala., who has won seven and one-half and lost one and one-half and has an excellent chance to tie or defeat the Floridian for the championship.

The champions in both the other classes have been decided. Ernest Hadaritz, the youngest player in the tourney, clinched the Class B crown when G. C. Eidson, Atlanta, beat Martin Southern, Knoxville, last night in the closest match of the evening. It was Southern's only play which had a chance to equal Hadaritz's.

Reese is a much improved player and will compete only in the men's events this year. He has competed in both the men's and junior events for several years but has graduated from the juniors.

They all have had several years' of real competition and have played in several tournaments this summer, including the Cotton States invitation and the Southern in Birmingham two weeks ago.

Crackers Beaten, 10-2, As Rosenthal Slugs

Former Atlanta Player Hits Home Run, Triple, Double and Single for Seven Runs.

EUROPEAN TOUR LIKELY TO OPEN W. L. STRIBLING'S CAMPAIGN

Georgian Receives Three Offers To Make Motion Pictures.

By Ralph McGill.

W. L. Stribling, who fought the greatest fight of his career in losing to Max Schmeling, world's heavyweight champion, is considering three offers to make motion pictures. He will take a good long rest and will open up his campaign for the title in the fall, probably abroad.

"I'm Stribling made the announcement Thursday afternoon as he paused in Atlanta for a half hour between trains en route to Macon and the family farm at Oakbrook. This was W. L.'s first knock-out since the fight at Cleveland the Striblings have not discussed their plans.

Cubs Sound Warning as They Move Into Second Place in Race

GIANTS BEATEN BY CHICAGO, 5-2; CARDINALS WIN

Mackmen Retain Seven-Game Lead With 5-3 Victory.

By Leo H. Petersen, United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, July 16.—(U.P.)—The Chicago Cubs served notice today that they still are in the thick of the 1931 National League pennant fight when they defeated the New York Giants, 5 to 2, and advanced to second place, six games behind the pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals.

The defeat dropped the Giants to third place, half a game ahead of Brooklyn, and marked their third consecutive loss since they started their western invasion against Chicago Tuesday.

ROOT HOLDS GIANTS. Charlie Root held the Giants at bay when men on the bases, while the Cubs made the most of their 11 hits off old Clarence Mitchell.

St. Louis added a half a game to its leadership by shutting out the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5 to 0, behind the seventh-inning pitch of Bill Hallahan. Hallahan tightened up after a wobbly start and struck out the last three men in the eighth.

Only five blows during his six innings of toil, but the Cardinals converted them into four runs and added another marker off Day in the eighth.

Rabbit Marvins' fielding, and Bruce Cunningham's pitching gave the Boston Braves a 2-0 victory over Cincinnati. Cunningham allowed only five hits and was awarded spectacular support by the veteran shortstop.

The Pittsburgh Pirates made it four in a row over the Philadelphia Phillies, 12 to 8, by pounding three pitchers for 17 hits and combining them to advantage with three opponent errors.

The American league race remained unchanged, with the Philadelphia Athletics retaining their seven-game margin of leadership over the Washington Senators.

TIGERS BOW TO A'S. Leroy Mahaffey turned back the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 3, adding his own cause with a home run. The A's rookie allowed 10 hits, but except in the third inning when the Tigers scored all of their runs, was invincible in the pitcher.

Washington staged a three-run rally in the ninth to come from behind and nose out the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 4. Thomas held the Senators at bay until the ninth when Washington combined five hits to score enough runs to win. The game was delayed two hours because of rain and as a result the second contest of the double-header was postponed.

Cleveland defeated New York in a free-hitting contest, 9 to 8. Lou Gehrig hit his 25th home run of the season while Babe Ruth poked out his twenty-second.

St. Louis defeated Boston, 2 to 1, in the other American league contest.

THE SPORTLIGHT

By Krautholt Rice

The Surest Way.

JACK SHARKEY says he would like to take on Walker, Loughran and Carnera in succession through July, August and September. This is the surest way to bring about another shot at Schmeling, provided of course Sharkey can carve a route through this much opposition. If he can beat these three men, there will be no challenger left but Sharkey, and with a clean-up of that type a Schmeling-Sharkey fight next June might get back to the million-dollar class.

Unless Sharkey has slipped, he ought to get by this trio. He looks too big and too strong for Walker—the same for Loughran—and he should be too fast and too smart for Carnera. If Carnera couldn't make any headway against Maloney and Paolino in 30 rounds, he should be no problem for Sharkey—at least the Sharkey that ought to be.

As it looks now, the Mickey Walker fight might be his hardest hurdle. Walker can't box with Tommy Loughran and he can't measure gross tonnage with Carnera. But he can do a lot of fighting. The queer part is that he can hit harder than Carnera, who outweighs him just 20 pounds. Pound for pound and inch for inch, Walker has been the best man in the game for about 10 years. He is supposed to be a decrepit old warrior, but he is only 30, about the age Toney was when he beat Jack Dempsey in Philadelphia. Walker hasn't been the most consistent trainer that ever lived, but neither was Harry Greb, who could take them all until his eyesight blew up.

Anyway, Sharkey has the right idea if he will carry it through. It will be the one unbeatable argument for his selection as the next challenger for the title.

Crown Prince Gehrig. If Babe Ruth, the Kaiser of Klout, fails to lead the home run parade this season, the odds are that Crown Prince Gehrig will take over the throne. Always remembering that a young man named Chuck Klein can't be overlooked, Ruth, Gehrig or Klein will be the next home run leader and Gehrig has come along like a streak in the last few weeks.

Gehrig was 25 years old in June, which is about the peak age for competition when it is backed up with experience. He has been a regular on the Yankees for seven years and in that time has been a horse for work.

The big first-lasman hits a ball almost as hard as Ruth and that is hard enough to get it out of most parks.

The Way It Goes. Some years ago most of the golf championships were located in Great Britain. The tennis championships were divided largely between Australia and the United States. The United States had to go across to England to bring back the polo cup. The only settled championship of the world that belonged exclusively to America was the heavyweight championship.

Now look at the situation. The United States has the British open golf cup, the Ryder cup, the polo cup and has a fair chance to bring back the Davis cup in tennis. But the heavyweight championship has come across to Germany and will be there for some time. You never can tell what is going to happen.

That's why sport is sport. If it were a fixed and set matter most of the time, there would be no interest.

Half Shots. Only 1 per cent like to spread good news about a case; 99 per cent get a big kick out of spilling the worst.

The average human being would be much further advanced if he were less average and more human.

There is almost everything in a swelled head except brains.

The only true courage is being afraid and yet going ahead.

The basis of knocking is merely the idea of bringing some one else down to the knocker's level.

Worth Watching. With Cochet reported on his way back to old form, and with Borotra always hard to beat on his home clay courts, the Davis cup challenge round should be one of the best in years.

The United States team still must eliminate the British, and while this may be closer than it first looked to me, Shields, Wood and the doubles team should pull it through.

The march on Paris will then begin with at least a fair chance of success—but not a great chance, if Cochet is anywhere near his best.

Miss Helene Madison still has some time to go before she reaches 20. When she actually grows up it may take one of G. W. Wood's motorboats to keep in sight of her.

CHARLIE BLACK LEADS TOURNEY AT CAPITAL CITY

Scores 74 in Qualifying of Governing Board Cup Meet.

Charlie Black Jr., Atlanta amateur golf champion, took the lead Thursday afternoon with a 74 in the qualifying rounds of the Governing Board trophy tournament on the Capital City Country Club course. Second place is held by Jim Ison, with a 76, and John Grant Jr. has third honor with a 77, three strokes back of Black.

Today and Saturday also will be given over to qualifying rounds, with first-round matches slated to start Sunday afternoon.

Players will be grouped into flights of 16 each, with prizes for the winners and runners-up in each flight, in addition to the medalist.

After a bad start on the first hole Thursday Black came back strong, hitting a 9 in the second hole. He was out in 40 but cut six strokes off on the last nine, making two strokes under par.

Wilson Sets Pace At Druid Hills. Jim Wilson, with a 78, set the pace Thursday on the Druid Hills golf course in the qualifying rounds for the annual Druid Hills club championship tournament. Wilson was one stroke better than George Harris, who held temporary first honors Wednesday with a 79.

Druid Hills golfers will have today and Saturday to qualify for the annual club championship. Match play is scheduled to start Sunday afternoon and three days will be given over to each round of play.

Due to the heavy rains, the Druid Hills course is in much better condition than at any time during the past season, and the putting surfaces were proved fast Thursday.

Kid Brown Sets New Record. R. L. (Kid) Brown, winner of the consolation flight in the 1930 city municipal tournament, Thursday set a new municipal record by scoring 61 on the 18-hole course.

Brown was playing with Ray Menck, who shot three under par, and a birdie and one eagle in his spectacular round. The eagle was scored on the long par five sixth hole. He scored a birdie on the first hole in both nine-hole rounds.

Only three more days remain to qualify for play in the tourney as match play starts Monday afternoon. Saturday is the last day to register at Scott's place on North Broad street, although Sunday will be last day to qualify.

Sixty dozen entries Thursday boosted the list to 180, of which 80 have already turned in their scores.

Brown's card follows:
Par out..... 338 438-436
Pay out..... 436 438-436

BRAYS 2; KIDS 0. CINCINNATI, July 16.—Masterful pitching by Bruce Cunningham, who limited the Reds to five hits today, earned a 2-0 victory for the Boston Braves. Three Cincinnati hits were for extra bases but the scoring punch was missing.

Bringing runs came in the sixth when Washington tripled and scored on a single by Richmond, who made three hits in as many times at bat.

United States and England Begin Davis Cup Series Today in Paris

WINNING TEAM PLAYS FRANCE IN FINAL MATCH

Wood Meets Austin, Shields Will Tackle Perry Today.

By Frank H. King.

PARIS, July 16.—(AP)—On the neutral ground of France, the Davis cup tennis team of the United States and Great Britain tomorrow start their three-day series of inter-zone matches to decide which nation will challenge during the following week-end the French holders of the famous tennis trophy. France has held the cup since 1929.

Rain this afternoon soaked Roland Garros stadium, but the American and British stars had finished their practice.

Pierre Gillon, president of the French Tennis Federation, in the presence of Sam Hardy and H. Roger Harrett, non-playing captains of the two teams, drew from a hat names, which assured a fighting start for the series and added seriously to the outcome of the Anglo-American duel.

DRAWINGS MADE.

Sydney Wood, recently crowned Wimbledon champion and Henry W. Austin, Britain's ranking player, were first drawn. They start their series battle at 2 p. m. (8 a. m. E. S. T.) Frank Shields and Fred Perry then take the court while Saturday's doubles will be between George Lott and Johnny Van Ryn and Perry and George P. Hughes. Sunday, the remaining singles will be played with the pairs reversed. Wood meeting Perry followed by Shields against Austin.

The nation which wins three of the five matches will challenge France. The opening match of the Davis cup competition means much to the morale of the competitors. Rarely has a team recovered from a bad start. Wood and Austin never have met in competitive play with the result there is no direct line on their form but the Americans, who've followed the 1931 Davis cup progress, fear if any match is lost, it likely will be the first one.

SHIELDS FAVORED.

There is little basis for judgment on the Shields-Perry match but unless the English find aggressiveness and enthusiasm on command some control, he will be beaten by the lanky American more decisively than was Austin at Wimbledon. Rarely has a team recovered from a bad start. Wood and Austin never have met in competitive play with the result there is no direct line on their form but the Americans, who've followed the 1931 Davis cup progress, fear if any match is lost, it likely will be the first one.

As for the doubles, Lott and Van Ryn have been playing well in practice and are expected to sweep through Perry and Hughes Saturday. In her progress to the inter-zone final, Britain has lost only one match, Austin dropped that to Hecht, of Czechoslovakia, but not until Britain had clinched the series.

The United States has lost two matches, one to Canada and one to Argentina. Great Britain swept through the European zone, defeating Monaco, Belgium, South Africa, Japan and Czechoslovakia. The United States came through the American lists by beating Mexico, Canada and Argentina, the latter having won the South American zone.

Sharkey's Size Gives Walker No Worries

Unequally Matched Fighters Train for Bout in Brooklyn Next Wednesday.

By Loren Disney.

NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP)—Can a good big man kick a good little man? Or a better little man, in the words of Mr. Jack Kearns, who answers the question emphatically in the negative.

Kearns, let it be understood, is the manager of the little man—one Mickey Walker, former welterweight and middleweight champion of the world.

Some sort of an answer will be supplied when Walker meets Jack Sharkey, fullblooded heavyweight who weighs in the neighborhood of 200 pounds, July 22 in a 15-round bout at Ebbets field, Brooklyn.

Walker is working out daily at Orangeburg, N. Y., where he is butting around a group of lumbering night men in an attempt to show that his case isn't so hopeless, though the bulk of the fight he will spot Sharkey around 30 pounds in weight and a five-inch height advantage.

Sharkey also is training, but he isn't taking the match as seriously as the experts think it warrants. He recently broke training to second Ernie Schaefer, Boston heavyweight, in whom he has an interest.

The experts are warning him that if he is going to move forward and get that heavy weight title he has been fumbling around after for years, he'll have to score decisively over the Rumsen, N. J., "toy bulldog."

The match, it is pointed out, was a "sucker" one at best for Sharkey, if he wins, "what of it?" but if he loses, he loses "talent."

CRACKERS LOSE TO MOBILE, 10-2, IN THIRD GAME

Rosenthal Stars at Bat, Getting Homer, Three Hits.

By Loren Disney.

ST. LOUIS, July 16.—(AP)—The American League pennant chase today by defeat of the Chicago Sox.

There was good news and bad at the Cracker office Thursday night.

The good news was that Tommy Rich, Thomasville shortstop, looks good in workouts and has signed a Cracker contract. And not a Baltimore contract as reported. He should be ready next season.

The bad news was that Bunney Hearn, one of the better left-handed pitchers, had hurt a finger and wouldn't be able to pitch for a while.

The Cracker play Mobile tonight at 8 o'clock and again Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

TWENTY GRAND, REST OF FIELD AWAIT CLASSIC

Greentree Star in Perfect Shape for Arlington Race Saturday.

By Charles Dinkley.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

ARLINGTON PARK RACE TRACK, Ill., July 16.—(AP)—Serious training is over for the seven candidates which gallop for the $70,000 added Arlington classic at Arlington Park Saturday afternoon.

Spanish Fly, winner of the Louisville and Lexington derbies, finished his final gallop today, going the full classic route, over a fast track. He went the three quarters in 1:16; mile in 1:43 2-5 and the full mile and a quarter in 2:09 4-5.

The six other certain starters either were taken out for a light canter or given no exercise, except a light walking around in the stable area.

Twenty Grand, the overwhelming favorite to win America's most richly endowed stake for 3-year-olds, was up bright and early in the stable of Mr. Shelenahy Whitney. The son of St. Germain-Bonus displayed no ill effects from his final drill yesterday and is in superb condition for the defense of his 3-year-old championship.

Charlie Kurtsinger, the blond Louisville youth, will be astride Twenty Grand. The lad has piloted the Greentree stable ace in all of his stake triumphs thus far. The Wood Memorial, Kentucky Derby, Belmont stakes and the Dwyer.

Pony McAttee will ride St. Bridewell. Twenty Grand's stablemate, while Earl Steffen will have the mount on Joey Bibb, provided he starts. Charlie Allen has been chosen to ride Spanish Fly, while William Kelsey will guide Sir Asa, the entry of William Woodward, of New York. Louis Schaefer will ride Sun Meadow and Albert Robertson will be up on Mate, the conqueror of Twenty Grand in the Prekness.

There was considerable speculation today as to the probable odds on Twenty Grand and St. Bridewell, considered as the Greentree stable entry. Turf experts figure that this pair will open as odds-on favorites at even money or 4 to 5 and may be 1 to 2 at post time. It is almost certain Mate will ride second choice.

Kaye Don Drives Boat at Fast Clip

GARDONE, RIVIERA, Italy, July 16.—(AP)—Kaye Don, British speedboat driver, made an unofficial run of 103.15 miles per hour on Lake Garda today in testing out a new propeller for his Miss England II, the boat in which he set the world's record of 110.223 miles an hour a few days ago.

'Gator Football Star Is on Mat Card Here

Cy Williams Meets Hesslyn in Semi-Windup Tuesday Night.

Cy Williams, who just a few years ago was opening holes for University of Florida halfbacks, will make his wrestling debut in Atlanta next Tuesday night at Spiller field.

The former football star, who performed on Grant field, has been in New York for the better part of a year studying wrestling under Joe (Toots) Mondt, one of the better teachers.

He has been "out" but a short time. He has a number of friends here who will greet him on his arrival Monday. Williams was one of the most popular of the 'Gator athletes.

Reports from New York indicate that the boy has gone at the mat game with all the fervor that made him an All-Southern guard in football. He was a terror there, leading interference and blocking like a demon.

HESSLYN IS OPPONENT. Matchmaker Henry Weber evidently thought well of him. Jim Hesslyn, the tough Australian who wrestled a draw with Charley Lehman here last week, will be his opponent. Hesslyn, an experienced grappler, will certainly bring out all

NEW YORK, July 16.—(AP)—Wall Street allowed itself a considerable dose of optimism in its appraisal of the German crisis today, and the financial markets rallied.

The fact that the partial reopening of the German market had been accomplished, and that the government would avoid a complete monetary collapse, seemed to have constructive effect on the market. Paris and London conference, it was felt, would lead to a settlement of the German crisis.

German bonds, which had been selling at a discount, advanced sharply on the New York Stock Exchange. The dollar, which had been selling at a discount, advanced sharply on the New York Stock Exchange.

United States Steel took the lead in the late rally in stocks, closing 3 points higher. International Telephone, American International, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse, C. P. Allied Chemical, Foreign Power, all finished strong, up 2 to 2 1/2. Ralls succeeded their early heaviness, which most part being induced by the gloomy picture drawn at the interstate commerce commission hearing.

Inquiry for copper was reported as a little stronger and both American and Kennecott rallied 2 points. Sales of just under 1,500,000 shares. European currencies continued to be set by uncertainties and quotations in many instances were still below par. The market, however, was firm; some dealers quoted a higher, almost on a gold parity.

Wheat climbed 1 1/2 to 1 7/8 net. Favorable corn report sent corn up 1 7/8 to 3 3/8. Cotton, which had been improved tone, was confirmed by markets, gaining $1.30 to $1.50 a bale.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

HEARS FILM ATTACK

Mahatma Gandhi Called "Nemesis to War" by Former Bishop.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—(AP)—
Delegates to the international convention of Christian Endeavor tonight heard an attack on salacious moving pictures, heard Mahatma Gandhi, the Indian leader, described as the "nemesis to war," and then adjourned a week's meeting.

President Dr. Daniel A. Poling, of the organization, announced the 1933 convention would be held in Milwaukee. He also said Carl-ton M. Sherwood, of Boston and New York, had been chosen general secretary.

Today's convention session also heard a telephone address by President Hoover.

Dr. Frederick Fisher, of Ann Arbor, Mich., former Methodist bishop to India, labeled Gandhi the "nemesis to war."

Dr. William Shaw, of Santa Monica, declared "war" against "offensive" motion pictures.

"I serve notice on the promoters and producers of motion pictures that unless they stop the flood of salacious-ness and violence that flows on the movie film through our theaters today."
